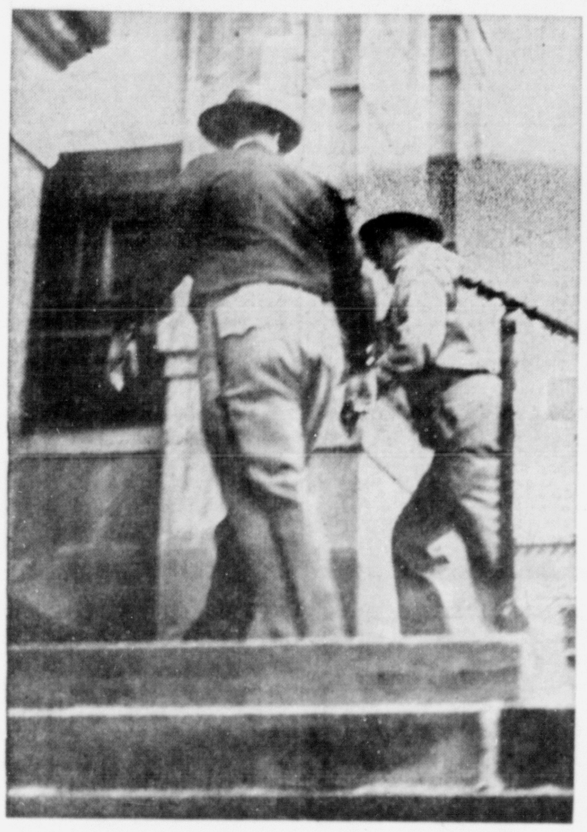
50-50 CHANCE NOW SEEN FOR FARM BILL

Baldridge Out of Prison As $15,000 Bail Put Up



HEADED INTO THE COURT HOUSE to sign his $15,000 bond, convicted slayer George Baldridge (right) is escorted by Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson (back to camera.) Baldridge was released from the Ohio Penitentiary Wednesday morning and spent the early part of the afternoon in the county jail here. This photo was taken at 3 P. M.; after the signing of the bond, Baldridge dodged photographers and reporters. (Record-Herald photo)

George Baldridge is again out from behind prison bars after serving less than a week in the Ohio Penitentiary for the slaying of Game Protector Irvin J. Patrick. . . but he is not yet a free man.

He was released from the Fayette County jail Wednesday shortly after 3 P. M., when relatives and friends came to his rescue and put up $15,000 bond required by the Court of Appeals, which had granted a stay of execution of sentence pending hearing of his case in that court.

Baldridge had been brought to the county jail here by a guard from the Ohio Penitentiary, where he had been sentenced to serve one to 20 years after having been found guilty of first degree manslaughter of Patrick.

His release was brought about by an unusual legal action filed by defense attorneys, who obtained the stay of execution from the Court of Appeals, which then fixed the bond necessary for his freedom.

It may be several months before final decision is given by the Court of Appeals, inasmuch as May 1 has been fixed as the date by which briefs in the case must be filed by his lawyers.

WHEN BONDSMEN appeared at the clerk of court's office, the sheriff's office was notified and Deputy Don Thompson took Baldridge from the jail to the clerk's office. Mrs. Baldridge was waiting for him there and his $15,000 bond was signed by William Chattin, Joyce Chattin, M. F. Hooper, Steven Green, P. W. Baldridge and A. R. Baldridge. Later on three others signed the bond — W. R. Baldridge, L. B. Thompson and O. B. Fulton of Adams County.

After the bond had been signed and it was accepted by the clerk of courts, Mrs. Dorothy West, Baldridge was released from further custody, and left with his wife for their home on the Prairie Pike five miles north of Washington C. H.

Stay of execution after a prisoner is once sent to the penitentiary, is somewhat unusual, but it is in accordance with provision of the statutes, attorneys commented.

However, the action came as a surprise after Baldridge had been sentenced and taken to the penitentiary.

Patrick was slain on the opening day of the hunting season after he had arrested Donald Butler on the Baldridge farm for possession of two hen pheasants. Baldridge admitted he fired the fatal shot from his shotgun, but insisted he fired it accidentally as he and the game protector struggled for its possession.

Committee OKs $27.8 Million Anti-Polio Fund

$795,743,823 Bill For Odd Activities Offered To House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today recommended a new allotment of $27,800,000 to finance anti - polio programs administered by the states.

It also approved, subject to House action next week. $185 million for veterans' readjustment benefits, $25 million for payments to school districts where population has been boosted by federal activities, and $9.9 million for construction of schools in such districts.

These were among the major recommendations in an omnibus $795,743,823 supplemental appropriation bill to finance miscellaneous activities during the current fiscal year ending June 30.

The total was $40,159,100 less than President Eisenhower had requested. The biggest cut was $15,351,500 lopped from the $129,041,500 requested for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The $34,900,000 recommended for payments to the school districts was the entire amount requested. So were the $27,800,000 for grants to states to pay for polio vaccinations and the $185 million for veterans' training benefits.

A LARGE HUNK, $266,771,471, of the bill's total was to meet federal pay raises voted last year by Congress but not financed in last year's appropriation bills.

Other allotments included $30 million to pay operating subsidies to ship operators, $100 million to reimburse states for the government's share of the cost of highway construction projects, $3 million for forest highway work $47 million for grants to states for public assistance, $200,000 for expenses of the special commission studying government security programs, $56,000 to start work on a war memorial on Corregidor Island; $3 million for construction of the Jefferson National Memorial in St. Louis and $300,000 for expenses of special House committees.

The committee also held that the Tennessee Valley Authority should pay for new construction with its own money and turned down a request for $3½ million.

The money had been asked by the administration to start building a new generating unit at TVA's John Sevier steam plant.

A minority of the committee disagreed vigorously with the action on grounds that use of TVA revenues for the construction would violate the intent of Congress.

Confessed Guilt Ignored By Jury

DALLAS (AP)—When a local man was arrested on a drunk driving charge, he told his lawyer he felt he would be convicted and wanted to spend some time in jail to credit against his sentence.

The lawyer arranged cancellation of bond and the man went to jail to await trial. But this week, after he had amassed five weeks of jail time, the grand jury failed to find sufficient evidence for an indictment and the charge was dropped.

Eden Winner In Confidence Vote On Policy

LONDON (AP) — A parliamentary vote of confidence gave weight today to Prime Minister Eden's determination to restore order in strife-torn Cyprus before making concessions to the islanders.

Eden won a 317-252 vote of support from the House of Commons last night after making plain his government intends to retain control over the Mediterranean island colony which is Britain's last bastion in the Middle East.

Eden declared Britain had faced a choice of exiling Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Cypriot movement for union with Greece, or abdicating British authority. He said loss of Cyprus would weaken Western defenses from the Mediterranean to the Persian Gulf and would menace Britain's Middle East oil supply.

British troops on Cyprus put Eden's words to action. Soldiers and police sealed off with barbed wire a block of downtown Nicosia where terrorists killed a British police sergeant and wounded a Cypriot policeman yesterday.

• • •

THE BRITISH served notice they would make a thorough search for "a secret hideout for arms and possibly terrorists" in the region, where nine British servicemen have been killed by backers of the union-with - Greece movement since last August.

In Lanarca, another Cypriotcity, a 7-year-old Greek Cypriot boy who was stoning military vehicles with other children was shot and killed.

Terrorist gunmen wounded two policemen in Nicosia today. Two other policemen chased and captured a man on a bicycle who shot at them and missed.

Aiken Predicts $2 Billion Hike In Ag Income

But Solon Pessimistic Over Nod Being Given President's Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican senator says farm income could rise $2 billion this year if Congress enacts acceptable farm legislation with "reasonable promptness."

But Sen. Aiken (R-Vt- said there is "only a 50-50 chance of getting a bill the President can sign."

Aiken, chief administration spokesman in Senate farm bill debate, took time out to make these observations to a group of Ohio Farm Bureau members.

The senator told the Ohioans the only "dangerous provision" in the Senate bill as it stands now is a "domestic parity" wheat amendment. This amendment was adopted over administration objections.

Leaders ordered another 12-hour Senate session today on the controversial bill with tempers of some lawmakers already above the boiling point.

The administration lost a major battle by one vote today when the Senate approved, 45-44, use of a dual parity system in computing crop price supports.

• • •

THE VOTE KEPT in the farm bill a provision allowing use of either an old or new parity formula, whichever is higher, in calculating supports.

Aiken said its retention would "be a fatal blow to our hope for a good farm bill this year."

Sen. Anderson (D-NM) former secretary of agriculture who also opposed the dual parity, said "Let's make this bill realistic so you don't ask the man down in the White House to veto it."

But Democrats and Republicans from Western wheat states combined to engineer the administration setback.

Crops are supported at a percentage of parity, so its level determines government price supports on wheat, corn and other major crops.

A new formula for computing parity became effective this year. It raised the level for some crops and lowered it for others—among them corn and wheat.

But the Senate Agriculture Committee wrote a "dual parity" provision into the bill.

This would allow farmers to use either the old or the new parity system, whichever was higher, in determining the level of price supports.

It could mean more than 10 cents a bushel on the wheat crop of nearly a billion bushels and somewhat less per bushel on the corn crop that sometimes is above three billion bushels.

Aiken teamed up with Senators Anderson (D-NM-, Holland (D-Fla- and Williams (R-Del) in an effort to beat this and retain only the new parity formula.

"I'm not optimistic," Aiken said "I don't think the opposition is smart in trying to get a veto, but they think they are."

Aiken and Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn- figured in one of the sharpest exchanges during the long debate yesterday.

• • •

IT FLARED when Humphrey tried to write into the bill provisions of a separate measure already passed by the Senate but deadlocked in a conference with the House.

Humphrey's proposal called for an extra $60 million for the free milk program for schools and other agencies in the next 27 months, and an extra $12 million in the same period for elimination of brucellosis, a livestock disease that causes undulant fever.

The Senate unanimously adopted the addition, although Aiken protested it was an effort to load the bill with favorable provisions that would make a veto highly unpopular.

Between gusts of angry debate, the Senate approved or rejected a variety of amendments, but it still had a stack of 60 or more that could be offered.

Arthur Matson Named To Council To Serve Term of John Weade

Arthur H. Matson, 906 North North Street, was Wednesday night unanimously chosen by city councilmen as a member of council to serve the four - year-unexpired term of John Weade, who died six weeks after being sworn into office.

Arthur Matson

Matson was a candidate for the office at the November election and was defeated by Weade. He is head of a floor service and has been engaged in floor laying and finishing for many years. He is a member of the Selective Service board (draft board) and served with Company M of the National Guard for 21 years.

At the Wednesday night session, application by residents of Campbell Street for installation of three street lights was referred to the safety service committee and City Manager Parkinsoa for study and recommendations.

Representatives of the Disabled American Veterans renewed application for a permit t ohave a street carnival locate on South Main Street next summer, and this was turned down with announcement that the Chamber of Commerce had checked merchants here and reported they were opposed to the carnival being located on the streets.

It was stated that there had been no objection to the carnival in question, but serious objections were raised as result of another street carnival here last year which had "soured" merchants on any street carnival.

It was finally agreed that there would be no objection of council if abutting property owners consented to locating the carnival on South Hinde Street adjacent to the Fayette Canning Co. plant, or in the public park.

SEVERAL ordinances, which had been read the first time and carried over for lack of a quorum to pass them, were placed on their second readings.

These were:

For interchange of fire fighting equipment with Green Township;

Increasing pay of volunteer firemen from $3 to $5 per fire when alarms are answered during the night time;

Appropriating $800 for erecting the new city building on North Fayette Street for equipment storage.

Removing the Farm Service Co. elevator and feed mill from fire zone restrictions.

Council adopted a resolution confirming the appointment of Mrs. Olive Gidding, Mrs. Lulu Sheets and Forest Ellis to the Carnegie Library Board.

The matter of electing a member to the Civil Service Board was discussed and then carried over until the next meeting.

Application for street lights on Comfort Lane and Oak Circle, both in new subdivisions, was referred to the city manager.

After hearing the municipal court report for February, council adjourned to go into executive session.

Kid Sister Accused Of Stealing Mate

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two sisters went to court in divorce actions today, the older one charging that her husband had forsaken her for the younger one.

Principals appearing in a pretrial conference before Judge William K. Thomas, were:

Mrs. Ethel Walter, 32, of Lakewood, suing her husband, Clarence, 33, on grounds he "was guilty of carrying on a romance" with . . . .

Her sister, Mrs. Josephine Brooks, 26, of Elyria, who is suing her husband, Richard, 26, on grounds of gross neglect of duty.

Mrs. Walter said the two couples lived together for a while on a hog farm near Berea. Then the husbands got into an argument and Brooks left "but Josephine stayed on," Mrs. Walter said.

Last July 4, the older sister said, her husband and Mrs. Brooks moved to Elyria.

The younger sister said she was living in a rooming house operated by Walter in Elyria, but denied any romance.

"I have my own room and I get my room and board free in return for taking care of the house," she said.

Said the older sister, "If she wants my husband, she can have him."

Customers To Be Asked What Night They Want Stores To Remain Open

If there is to be any change in the night the stores of Washington C. H. stay open, the decision is to be made by the customers; more than that, the customers are to say which night will be most convenient for them if there is to be a change.

This about sums up the conclusions reached by members of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce after a long discussion at its Wednesday meeting. A. R. Hinchee, the committee chairman and manager of the Murphy Store, said.

However, there was a lot of discussion before the conclusions were reached; they had to do mostly with ways and means of determining just what the customers want — wether they want a change in the night the stores remain open and, if so, what night best suits the majority of them.

For years, the stores of Washington C. H. have remained open until 9 o'clock on Saturday nights but have closed from 5 to 6 o'clock the other five days of the week.

There has been a trend among many cities in this section — including those in rural areas such as Fayette County — to close on Saturday nights and remain open one other night.

Oklahoma Kid Found Allergic To Just About Everything

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Life is full of temptations for 8-year - old Rickie Reynolds, whose allergies range from A to Z.

Like most youngsters, he has cravings for chocolates, fruits and pet animals but he can't have them. When he fudges and eats something he shouldn't he develops a headache, an itch, a wheeze, a cough or a runny nose.

"Rickie is allergic to just about everything God put on this good earth," said his mother, Mrs. Pierce Reynolds.

He can't stand feathers or hair so his pets are goldfish.

A robust third-grader, Rickie has to weigh his playing against the consequences. When he runs and breathes fast, he inhales dust and pollen which set off reactions. The lad is unable to swim in pools treated with chlorine.

His allergies change from time to time and as a result he was given 81 test injections last year to discover whether he had developed any new ones.

His body apparently builds up immunity to certain drugs and often new medicines are substituted.

Every day Rickie is dosed with pills, ointments and a vitamin capsule to counteract his multitude of allergies.

He washes with special soap which costs 40 cents a cake. He gets two inoculations a week.

Fresh milk, pillows, starch in his trousers, one type of sulfa drug, flannel clothes and rugs are a few of the things taboo with Rickie.

Doctors have told the family Rickie's allergy encompasses 65 per cent of his blood cells.

Representatives of the Disabled American Veterans renewed application for a permit t ohave a street carnival locate on South Main Street next summer, and this was turned down with announcement that the Chamber of Commerce had checked merchants here and reported they were opposed to the carnival being located on the streets.

It was stated that there had been no objection to the carnival in question, but serious objections were raised as result of another street carnival here last year which had "soured" merchants on any street carnival.

It was finally agreed that there would be no objection of council if abutting property owners consented to locating the carnival on South Hinde Street adjacent to the Fayette Canning Co. plant, or in the public park.

SEVERAL ordinances, which had been read the first time and carried over for lack of a quorum to pass them, were placed on their second readings.

These were:

For interchange of fire fighting equipment with Green Township;

Increasing pay of volunteer firemen from $3 to $5 per fire when alarms are answered during the night time;

Appropriating $800 for erecting the new city building on North Fayette Street for equipment storage.

Removing the Farm Service Co. elevator and feed mill from fire zone restrictions.

Council adopted a resolution confirming the appointment of Mrs. Olive Gidding, Mrs. Lulu Sheets and Forest Ellis to the Carnegie Library Board.

The matter of electing a member to the Civil Service Board was discussed and then carried over until the next meeting.

Application for street lights on Comfort Lane and Oak Circle, both in new subdivisions, was referred to the city manager.

After hearing the municipal court report for February, council adjourned to go into executive session.

Aiken Predicts $2 Billion Hike In Ag Income

But Solon Pessimistic Over Nod Being Given President's Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican senator says farm income could rise $2 billion this year if Congress enacts acceptable farm legislation with "reasonable promptness."

But Sen. Aiken (R-Vt- said there is "only a 50-50 chance of getting a bill the President can sign."

Aiken, chief administration spokesman in Senate farm bill debate, took time out to make these observations to a group of Ohio Farm Bureau members.

The senator told the Ohioans the only "dangerous provision" in the Senate bill as it stands now is a "domestic parity" wheat amendment. This amendment was adopted over administration objections.

Leaders ordered another 12-hour Senate session today on the controversial bill with tempers of some lawmakers already above the boiling point.

The administration lost a major battle by one vote today when the Senate approved, 45-44, use of a dual parity system in computing crop price supports.

• • •

THE VOTE KEPT in the farm bill a provision allowing use of either an old or new parity formula, whichever is higher, in calculating supports.

Aiken said its retention would "be a fatal blow to our hope for a good farm bill this year."

Sen. Anderson (D-NM) former secretary of agriculture who also opposed the dual parity, said "Let's make this bill realistic so you don't ask the man down in the White House to veto it."

But Democrats and Republicans from Western wheat states combined to engineer the administration setback.

Crops are supported at a percentage of parity, so its level determines government price supports on wheat, corn and other major crops.

A new formula for computing parity became effective this year. It raised the level for some crops and lowered it for others—among them corn and wheat.

But the Senate Agriculture Committee wrote a "dual parity" provision into the bill.

This would allow farmers to use either the old or the new parity system, whichever was higher, in determining the level of price supports.

It could mean more than 10 cents a bushel on the wheat crop of nearly a billion bushels and somewhat less per bushel on the corn crop that sometimes is above three billion bushels.

Aiken teamed up with Senators Anderson (D-NM-, Holland (D-Fla- and Williams (R-Del) in an effort to beat this and retain only the new parity formula.

"I'm not optimistic," Aiken said "I don't think the opposition is smart in trying to get a veto, but they think they are."

Aiken and Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn- figured in one of the sharpest exchanges during the long debate yesterday.

• • •

IT FLARED when Humphrey tried to write into the bill provisions of a separate measure already passed by the Senate but deadlocked in a conference with the House.

Humphrey's proposal called for an extra $60 million for the free milk program for schools and other agencies in the next 27 months, and an extra $12 million in the same period tor elimination of brucellosis, a livestock disease that causes undulant fever.

The Senate unanimously adopted the addition, although Aiken protested it was an effort to load the bill with favorable provisions that would make a veto highly unpopular.

Between gusts of angry debate, the Senate approved or rejected a variety of amendments, but it still had a stack of 60 or more that could be offered.

Kid Sister Accused Of Stealing Mate

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two sisters went to court in divorce actions today, the older one charging that her husband had forsaken her for the younger one.

Principals, appearing in a pretrial conference before Judge William K. Thomas, were:

Mrs. Ethel Walter, 32, of Lakewood, suing her husband, Clarence, 33, on grounds he "was guilty of carrying on a romance" with . . . .

Her sister, Mrs. Josephine Brooks, 26, of Elyria, who is suing her husband, Richard, 26, on grounds of gross neglect of duty.

Mrs. Walter said the two couples lived together for a while on a hog farm near Berea. Then the husbands got into an argument and Brooks left "but Josephine stayed on," Mrs. Walter said.

Last July 4, the older sister said, her husband and Mrs. Brooks moved to Elyria.

The younger sister said she was living in a rooming house operated by Walter in Elyria, but denied any romance.

"I have my own room and I get my room and board free in return for taking care of the house," she said.

Said the older sister, "If she wants my husband, she can have him."

Oklahoma Kid Found Allergic To Just About Everything

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Life is full of temptations for 8-year - old Rickie Reynolds, whose allergies range from A to Z.

Like most youngsters, he has cravings for chocolates, fruits and pet animals but he can't have them. When he fudges and eats something he shouldn't he develops a headache, an itch, a wheeze, a cough or a runny nose.

"Rickie is allergic to just about everything God put on this good earth," said his mother, Mrs. Pierce Reynolds.

He can't stand feathers or hair so his pets are goldfish.

A robust third-grader, Rickie has to weigh his playing against the consequences. When he runs and breathes fast, he inhales dust and pollen which set off reactions. The lad is unable to swim in pools treated with chlorine.

His allergies change from time to time and as a result he was given 8. test injections last year to discover whether he had developed any new ones.

His body apparently builds up immunity to certain drugs and often new medicines are substituted.

Every day Rickie is dosed with pills, ointments and a vitamin capsule to counteract his multitude of allergies.

He washes with special soap which costs 40 cents a cake. He gets two inoculations a week.

Fresh milk, pillows, starch in his trousers, one type of sulfa drug, flannel clothes and rugs are a few of the things taboo with Rickie.

Doctors have told the family Rickie's allergy encompasses 65 per cent of his blood cells.

Customers To Be Asked What Night They Want Stores To Remain Open

If there is to be any change in the night the stores of Washington C. H. stay open, the decision is to be made by the customers; more than that, the customers are to say which night will be most convenient for them if there is to be a change.

This about sums up the conclusions reached by members of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce after a long discussion at its Wednesday meeting. A. R. Hinchee, the committee chairman and manager of the Murphy Store, said.

However, there was a lot of discussion before the conclusions were reached; they had to do mostly with ways and means of determining just what the customers want — wether they want a change in the night the stores remain open and, if so, what night best suits the majority of them.

For years, the stores of Washington C. H. have remained open until 9 o'clock on Saturday nights but have closed from 5 to 6 o'clock the other five days of the week.

There has been a trend among many cities in this section — including those in rural areas such as Fayette County — to close on Saturday nights and remain open one other night.

Heavy Rains Renew Danger Of Ohio Floods

(By The Associated Press)

Heavy rains in the Ohio River Valley have renewed the threat of floods in the lower region of the river.

The Ohio, still swollen from last week's rains, was expected to rise again as the result of belting downpours which fell yesterday over a wide area in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky.

Many points in the area reported from 1½ to almost 2½ inches of rain.

The Weather Bureau said today the river would crest at some points at about one to two feet above flood stage but damage was expected to be light.

In Cincinnati, the river is expected to crest at about one foot above the 52 foot flood stage Saturday evening.

Expected river crests at other points (flood stages bracketed :

'Plant Ohio' Meet Is Held

State Reforestation Is Discussed Here

The "Plant Ohio" project, a reforestation plan which has been gathering steam across the state, rolled into Fayette County Wednesday afternoon.

In a meeting attended by representatives of four organizations, progress of the plan since its start in 1952 was reviewed.

The organizations sending representatives to the meeting were the Farm Bureau, the Soil Conservation Service, the Boy Scouts and the state Department of Forestry.

Last year alone, nearly 25,000,000 trees were planted throughout Ohio, according to County Agent W. W. Montgomery, chairman of the program in Fayette County.

Here in Fayette County, more than 7,000 trees have been planted under the program.

That total includes only the trees provided by the state Department of Natural Resources. In addition, shade and ornamental trees have been planted on school grounds, in parks and around private homes as a result of the program.

• • •

FAYETTE COUNTY will be asked to provide two of the maple trees to be planted around the youth center at the State Fairgrounds, County Agent Montgomery said.

The tree-planting there is being planned and conducted by the state Junior Fair Board, two members of which are from the county. The two from here are Sue Christopher and Nancy Stephenson.

The planting is scheduled for April 7.

One of the biggest tree-planting sessions planned here will be carried out the same day, April 7, at Camp Glenn Pine, the Boy Scout Camp on the Flakes Ford Road. The Scouts intend to plant 2,500 trees on their campsite.

Another boost for tree-planting will come when a shipment of trees ordered during the winter arrives at the state highway garage here today (Thursday).

Plantings already carried out here include work done at the public park on Millikan Avenue, where 125 shrubs were set out Tuesday, and the setting out of 31 trees on the Fairgrounds, where the Fair Board plans to plant nearly that many more.

• • •

THE STATE executive committee of "Plant Ohio" has made several recommendations on tree-planting, according to Frank Sollars, a member of the committee.

Among the suggestions:

(1) Encourage farmers to plant waste land in trees.

(2) Encourage home owners to plant ornamental and shade trees.

(3) Encourage municipalities to plant trees and shrubs.

(4) Encourage industries to plant ornamental and shade trees.

(5) Encourage programs, particularly in the schools, featuring the "Plant Ohio" project.

Garden clubs will be asked to participate in the various Arbor Day programs to be held by the schools. Arbor Day is April 27. The county's garden clubs have been instrumental in sponsoring many of the tree planting programs here.

Night Store Opening

ton — have shifted the night open from Saturday to Friday this year.

Merchants at the meeting here expressed many different views on the night open proposal and, in the end, it was decided that the customers should make the decision "because," as Hinchee expressed it, "they are the ones we want to please."

With that in mind, the committee worked out a plan for a sort of election in which the customers may express their night open preference.

Cards are now being printed to serve as the ballots. On them will be the explanation that the merchants want to know which night the customers would like to have the stores of Washington C. H. remain open.

Below that, the six business days of the week will be printed; the customer will be asked to draw a circle around the day he, or she, would like to have the store remain open.

It was brought out that the customers do not have to pick another day for the stores to remain open in the evening; if they like things as they are, with the Saturday night opening, they may circle Saturday on the card.

• • •

THE COMMITTEE agreed that it would like to have a 25-day test on which to base the final decision.

A deadline of April 25 was set for the end of the public opinion poll and Hinchee said the committee hoped to have the cards in the stores by the first of next week at the latest.

How the poll is conducted is to be left, more or less, up to the management of each store. Indications were that in most of them the clerks either would hand cards to the customers or suggest that they pick one up at some convenient location and express their preference.

The cards, Hinchee said, would be collected each week and tallied by stores to make possible a more complete analysis of the customers' views.

Since virtually all of the food markets remain open nearly every night, they were not considered in this preliminary discussion of night store opening. Representatives of 18 retail stores were at the meeting.

Westinghouse Workers Lose Heavily In Prolonged Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — No matter how or when the prolonged Westinghouse strike finally is settled, it may be years before the average worker gets on his feet again financially.

Every day the strike rolls on now just means this "little guy" is squeezed that much harder. Best available estimateof wages lost exceeds $100 million.

On the other side of the picture, the company estimated early this month the strike had cost it about $250 million worth of business. Net income dropped more than $30 million in 1955 compared with the preceding year and much of the drop was attributed to the strike.

It's been nearly five months since strikers have had a paycheck; five months without a steady income. How have they managed?

"We're not living high. But we're getting along. Nobody's starving, nobody's out in the street, nobody's cold. You couldn't expect more."

• • •

THAT CAPSULE comment came today from Samuel Wilkins, chief union shop steward at Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s East Pittsburgh plant largest in the firm's far-flung system and one of 40 struck since October.

"Anyone who has been cold or hungry or in need of medical care, we've taken care of them," said Wilkins, a fitter employed by Westinghouse for 22 years.

By "we" he meant the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers and its biggest, most powerful Westinghouse unit, Local 601 At the start of the strike Oct. 17, the local counted some 10,000 members. In all, the IUE called out 44,000 workers.

Wilkins said he knew of no case where a Local 601 member was evicted, lost his home or had his auto repossessed if he applied to the union for aid.

Emphasizing that it was only a rough guess, Wilkins said he figured the union has spent about $1 million for strike relief in the East Pittsburgh area.

In addition to union aid, all strikers are eligible for government surplus food. Some receive state relief. Many get help from friends and relatives. Others work parttime at odd jobs. Some have had windfalls in the form of federal income tax refunds and accrued vacation pay. Many took $100 loans from the company last Christmas.

Some workers have given up entirely and taken permanent jobs elsewhere. Wilkins estimates the number at East Pittsburgh at a "couple of hundred." For the most part these were younger men with less than 15 year's service. The older men are planning to go back to Westinghouse.

FFA Boys Hold Co-op Study

Jeff, WHS Chapters In Joint Meet Here

"We have been co-operating in the study of co-operatives."

That was the way H. H. Coffey, vocational agriculture instructor at Jeffersonville, described the four - day study session which was wound up Thursday by the Jeffersonville and Washington C. H. chapters of the Future Farmers of America.

The two chapters' "co-operation on co-ops" has given the boys a chance to hear how four Ohio co-ops are run, what they do and how they benefit members.

Each day, Monday through Thursday, a representative of a co-op organization has spoken before a joint meeting of the Jeffersonville and Washington C. H. Future Farmers at the high school here.

• • •

TO TEST how much the boys have learned, the Farm Bureau is sponsoring a test on co-ops, with prizes totalling $40 for six winners, the top three boys in each chapter.

First prize winners in both chapters will ge $10. Second-place prizes are $6 and third - place awards are $4.

The test will be given at WHS by Don Mercer, vo-ag instructor here, and at Jeffersonville by Coffey.

On Monday, the vo-ag students heard a talk by L. D. Kingsbury of the Columbus Livestock Producers Association. Frank Alexander of the Washington C. H. Farm Bureau was the speaker Tuesday.

Wednesday's talk was by Richard Whiteside of the Farmers' National Farm Loan Association.

The series was wound up Thursday when Paul Maughan of Dayton, representative of the Miami Valley Milk Producers' Association, spoke before the two groups.

Drunk Driver Is Fined By Justice

Ray Brill, facing a charge of driving while drunk, was arraigned before the only justice of the peace in Fayette County—Clarence Robinson in Jeffersonville Wednesday night. He was fined $50 and costs, and given three days in jail. (A justice of the peace is without authority to suspend licenses for driving.)

In levying the fine, Justice Robinson warned Brill never to come back into his court on a similar charge unless he wanted to pay a fine of $500 and costs for the offense.

Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson, who had made the arrest, was at the hearing.

Work of setting up the booths for exhibits will start tonight. Cherry Hill School's Cub Pack 229, led by Charles Sheridan, is one of 200 units in the state sponsoring booths.

Other county units taking part in the Scout-O-Rama will have demonstrations in the arena. All the Fayette County units' acts are scheduled between 2:30 and 3:30 P. M. Saturday.

• • •

ROBERT TERHUNE, president of the Central Ohio Council of the Scouts, will be master of ceremonies at Saturday evening's arena show, introducing the units scheduled to perform then.

In addition to planning for the Scout-O-Rama, the leaders' meeting here tonight will also set up Scout and Cub programs for April.

The Cub theme for the month will be "Cub Scout bird watchers."

The Boy Scout units will work on forestry, in line with the statewide "Plant Ohio" program now getting underway.

As part of their forestry work, the Scouts are to plant 2,500 trees on their Glenn Pine campsite here. The trees, provided by the Central Ohio Scout Council, will be planted April 7.

Plans for the Scout camporee May 12 and 13 will get underway at tonight's session, too, according to Field Scout executive Robert Poppen.

The distance from New York to San Francisco via the Straits of Magellan is 13,135 miles compared to 5,262 miles through the Panama canal.

'Plant Ohio' Meet Is Held

State Reforestation Is Discussed Here

The "Plant Ohio" project, a reforestation plan which has been gathering steam across the state, rolled into Fayette County Wednesday afternoon.

In a meeting attended by representatives of four organizations, progress of the plan since its start in 1952 was reviewed.

The organizations sending representatives to the meeting were the Farm Bureau, the Soil Conservation Service, the Boy Scouts and the state Department of Forestry.

Last year alone, nearly 25,000,000 trees were planted throughout Ohio, according to County Agent W. W. Montgomery, chairman of the program in Fayette County.

Here in Fayette County, more than 7,000 trees have been planted under the program.

That total includes only the trees provided by the state Department of Natural Resources. In addition, shade and ornamental trees have been planted on school grounds, in parks and around private homes as a result of the program.

* * *

FAYETTE COUNTY will be asked to provide two of the maple trees to be planted around the youth center at the State Fairgrounds, County Agent Montgomery said.

The tree-planting there is being planned and conducted by the state Junior Fair Board, two members of which are from the county. The two from here are Sue Christopher and Nancy Stephenson.

The planting is scheduled for April 7.

One of the biggest tree-planting sessions planned here will be carried out the same day, April 7, at Camp Glenn Pine, the Boy Scout Camp on the Flakes Ford Road. The Scouts intend to plant 2,500 trees on their campsite.

Another boost for tree-planting will come when a shipment of trees ordered during the winter arrives at the state highway garage here today (Thursday).

Plantings already carried out here include work done at the public park on Millikan Avenue, where 125 shrubs were set out Tuesday, and the setting out of 31 trees on the Fairgrounds, where the Fair Board plans to plant nearly that many more.

* * *

THE STATE executive committee of "Plant Ohio" has made several recommendations on tree-planting, according to Frank Sollars, a member of the committee.

Among the suggestions:

(1) Encourage farmers to plant waste land in trees.

(2) Encourage home owners to plant ornamental and shade trees.

(3) Encourage municipalities to plant trees and shrubs.

(4) Encourage industries to plant ornamental and shade trees.

(5) Encourage programs, particularly in the schools, featuring the "Plant Ohio" project.

Garden clubs will be asked to participate in the various Arbor Day programs to be held by the schools. Arbor Day is April 27. The county's garden clubs have been instrumental in sponsoring many of the tree planting programs here.

Night Store Opening

ton — have shifted the night open from Saturday to Friday this year.

Merchants at the meeting here expressed many different views on the night open proposal and, in the end, it was decided that the customers should make the decision "because," as Hinchee expressed it, "they are the ones we want to please."

With that in mind, the committee worked out a plan for a sort of election in which the customers may express their night open preference.

Cards are now being printed to serve as the ballots. On them will be the explanation that the merchants want to know which night the customers would like to have the stores of Washington C. H. remain open.

Below that, the six business days of the week will be printed; the customer will be asked to draw a circle around the day he, or she, would like to have the store remain open.

It was brought out that the customers do not have to pick another day for the stores to remain open in the evening; if they like things as they are, with the Saturday night opening, they may circle Saturday on the card.

* * *

THE COMMITTEE agreed that it would like to have a 25-day test on which to base the final decision.

A deadline of April 25 was set for the end of the public opinion poll and Hinchee said the committee hoped to have the cards in the stores by the first of next week at the latest.

How the poll is conducted is to be left, more or less, up to the management of each store. Indications were that in most of them the clerks either would hand cards to the customers or suggest that they pick one up at some convenient location and express their preference.

The cards, Hinchee said, would be collected each week and tallied by stores to make possible a more complete analysis of the customers' views.

Since virtually all of the food markets remain open nearly every night, they were not considered in this preliminary discussion of night store opening. Representatives of 18 retail stores were at the meeting.

Westinghouse Workers Lose Heavily In Prolonged Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — No matter how or when the prolonged Westinghouse strike finally is settled, it may be years before the average worker gets on his feet again financially.

Every day the strike rolls on now just means this "little guy" is squeezed that much harder. Best available estimateof wages lost exceeds $100 million.

On the other side of the picture, the company estimated early this month the strike had cost it about $250 million worth of business. Net income dropped more than $30 million in 1955 compared with the preceding year and much of the drop was attributed to the strike.

It's been nearly five months since strikers have had a paycheck; five months without a steady income. How have they managed?

"We're not living high. But we're getting along. Nobody's starving, nobody's out in the street, nobody's cold. You couldn't expect more."

* * *

THAT CAPSULE comment came today from Samuel Wilkins, chief union shop steward at Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s East Pittsburgh plant largest in the firm's far-flung system and one of 40 struck since October.

"Anyone who has been cold or hungry or in need of medical care, we've taken care of them." said Wilkins, a fitter employed by Westinghouse for 22 years.

By "we" he meant the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers and its biggest, most powerful Westinghouse unit, Local 601 At the start of the strike Oct. 17. the local counted some 10,000 members. In all, the IUE called out 44,000 workers.

Wilkins said he knew of no case where a Local 601 member was evicted, lost his home or had his auto repossessed if he applied to the union for aid.

Emphasizing that it was only a rough guess, Wilkins said he figured the union has spent about $1 million for strike relief in the East Pittsburgh area.

In addition to union aid, all strikers are eligible for government surplus food. Some receive state relief. Many get help from friends and relatives. Others work parttime at odd jobs. Some have had windfalls in the form of federal income tax refunds and accrued vacation pay. Many took $100 loans from the company last Christmas.

Some workers have given up entirely and taken permanent jobs elsewhere. Wilkins estimates the number at East Pittsburgh at a "couple of hundred." For the most part these were younger men with less than 15 year's service The older men are planning to go back to Westinghouse.

FFA Boys Hold Co-op Study

Jeff, WHS Chapters In Joint Meet Here

"We have been co-operating in the study of co-operatives."

That was the way H. H. Coffey, vocational agriculture instructor at Jeffersonville, described the four - day study session which was wound up Thursday by the Jeffersonville and Washington C. H. chapters of the Future Farmers of America.

The two chapters' "co-operation on co-ops" has given the boys a chance to hear how four Ohio co-ops are run, what they do and how they benefit members.

Each day, Monday through Thursday, a representative of a co-op organization has spoken before a joint meeting of the Jeffersonville and Washington C. H. Future Farmers at the high school here.

* * *

TO TEST how much the boys have learned, the Farm Bureau is sponsoring a test on co-ops, with prizes totalling $40 for six winners, the top three boys in each chapter.

First prize winners in both chapters will ge $10. Second-place prizes are $6 and third - place awards are $4.

The test will be given at WHS by Don Mercer, vo-ag instructor here, and at Jeffersonville by Coffey.

On Monday, the vo-ag students heard a talk by L. D. Kingsbury of the Columbus Livestock Producers Association. Frank Alexander of the Washington C. H. Farm Bureau was the speaker Tuesday.

Wednesday's talk was by Richard Whiteside of the Farmers' National Farm Loan Association.

The series was wound up Thursday when Paul Maughan of Dayton, representative of the Miami Valley Milk Producers' Association, spoke before the two groups.

Drunk Driver Is Fined By Justice

Ray Brill, facing a charge of driving while drunk, was arraigned before the only justice of the peace in Fayette County—Clarence Robinson in Jeffersonville Wednesday night. He was fined $50 and costs, and given three days in jail. (A justice of the peace is without authority to suspend licenses for driving.)

In levying the fine, Justice Robinson warned Brill never to come back into his court on a similar charge unless he wanted to pay a fine of $500 and costs for the offense.

Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson, who had made the arrest, was at the hearing.

Funeral Friday For Mrs. Forman

Funeral services for Mrs. Maude Forman, who died at her home, 221 North Hinde Street, here Wednesday morning, will be held at 3 P. M. Friday at the Gersnter Funeral Home in charge of Rev. Harold J. Braden, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

Her three daughters, Mrs. Mary Fishel of Willoughby, Miss Kathryn Forman of Fairborn and Miss Elsie Forman of Barbourville, Ky., are all here now for the services.

Friends may call any time at the funeral home.

Interment is to be in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Need For Holding Present Federal Tax Line

While there are always many people over the country demanding a reduction in taxes, and sometimes justifiably, it would seem to be just common sense for the federal government to hold the present federal tax line, get its budget balanced and then, if at all possible start some reduction of our national debt, rather than give way to election year propagandists who want to see some tax reduction.

The recent action of the Congressional House Wayns and Means committee was an important move along this line when it voted to continue the present corporation levy and federal excise levies.

Those who fully recognize the trying situation just now, understand that present tax levies are necessary for maintenance of a balanced budget this year. The political candidates who are seeking to make a loud campaign howl for an immediate decrease in taxes are purely playing an election year game for their own purposes and most of them recognize that their demands are not reasonable.

Particularly is this noticeable because some of the same ones, especially certain Democratic candidates, call loudly for more government "handouts" and guaranteeing of prices while asking for lower taxes at the same time. Such a course is impossible and candidates who are campaigning for such things are not showing good thinking in matters of government finances.

The next step is to guarantee that there also is no lowering of individual income taxes. A prosperous period like the present is the ideal time for debt reduction. To lower taxes would be to increase inflationary pressures, and to render more difficult the subsequent task of reducing public debt.

Although an election year presents an inevitable temptation to leaders of both parties, no logical case can be made for reducing income taxes in the immediate future. Every harbinger points now to an increased spending load for the federal government. The need to push aerial research and development becomes more apparent. The strides of Russian aviation, both in guided missiles and in warplanes, demonstrate the necessity for a reappraisal of U. S. defense efforts. The new Soviet economic challenge points to the possibility of need for expanded U. S. economic action.

With such challenges before the nation, increased demands on the federal coffers quite possibly will offset the increased revenues from expanded business activity. If so, we will be hard pressed to maintain a balanced budget and to accomplish even a little debt-reduction. As election year pressures mount, it will be the part of statesmanship, both in the administration and in the Congress, to hold fast to sound fiscal policy by holding the line on taxes.

Spring Brings Poetic Lines

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A wind that promises freshness to everyone sweeps like a benediction across the land.

It has been such a long, hard winter. It is such a pleasure to look across the acres dull with the duty of yesterday now fresh-speared with the promise of tomorrow.

There is about this time such a bewilderment of tossing boughts, such a fog of confused buds, opening with restless fingers into leaves that know where they are reaching, such an overall fog of purposeful greenery!

Anywhere in the country now spring ruptures winter with a rapture evident to all. Wonder holds the eye.

In town, however, nature is policed by a duller constable. Yet the man in blue, plowing his daily city furrow, is first aware of the difference.

The old cop, plodding a worn beat, is the one who naturally is first aware of any change in the neighborhood. He has swung a wondering club at a brooding bud, broke it wide open, seen the pale green birth leaves it sheltered, pondered how he would get his own kids through school.

Meanwhile the people he patrols are stirred by an ancient rebirth. The old drum of humanity, tossed aside during the winter but not carried away by the neighborhood garbage collector, begins to beat . . . beat . . . beat.

In the big city there is no such thing as a first robin. Spring is a wind. It does odd things.

This wind churns up old, uncollected winter dust and blows it into everyone's eyes. But even as they grumble they realize there is something different about this wind.

The staleness of perpetual cold has gone from it. Behind its chill is a hidden warmth.

Nobody ordered it on schedule. Nobody sent it. But here it is. Lift a nose . . . the fragrance blown here started from afar.

The old people in the park lift sad eyes and welcome renewal. Young people who live in their own particular dark grudgingly greet a brightness they had forgotten and thought might never chance their way again.

Along the pavement the big fat male pigeon pursues his irrefrangible path toward a duller-clad lady pigeon who is seriously stumbling all over her feet to keep from getting out of his way.

Ahn, spring . . . sweet majesty . . . the seas sigh softer . . . the air sings . . . all land-bound creatures scent and surge toward freedom . . . oh, blossoming, rule the world! Stride on tremendous feet.

Now is your time. It is such a little while.

It All Depends On Who Says It

By George Sokolsky

A wise man said the other day that President Eisenhower spoiled all dinner conversation by announcing that he would run again. Now, the wise man said, there is nothing to talk about except the probability of Dick Nixon running for Vice President, Grace Kelly's marriage to Grimaldi, and the gyrations of the French.

Well, that is conversation enough for most dinner parties. Of course, a good argument can be started by being either pro-Arab or pro-Israel, particularly among those who dislike being classified as pro-anything that may prove dangerous in a month or two. Even in the hospital, I heard the latest cliche which is: "Money isn't everything but it gets a lot of things." That profound remark is supposed to be final and to represent profound thought.

As I have to live, temporarily I hope, on 1,500 calories, which used to cover my breakfast, I shall not be listening to such conversations for some time to come. Nevertheless, by indirection, I hear the latest pearls of wisdom and it would seem that what is most dangerous in this very rich and self-satisfied country is that having often been on the brink of more wars and having somehow evaded them, we are cultivating a sense of security that "God's in his Heaven and all's right with the world," which makes it very easy. This may explain the current vogue of Vodka.

So one looks at "Pravda" and comes across a paragraph like this:

"Contrary to the cause of capitalist countries, where the state and the people are implacable enemies, the Soviet State is strong through the consciousness (soznatelnost) of the masses, through their active participation in state construction in all fields of economic and cultural life. The profund comprehension of the unity of the interests of the state and of the people, the knowledge that Soviet people are working for themselves, for their security, multiplies their forces and inspires them toward new labor feats."

That is a topsy-turvy description of our country which is supposed to be capitalistic. Surely the American people are not implacable enemies of their government, although none of us like tax-collectors which is only natural. Our government is a body of our own selection. Every two years we go to the polls and pick representatives, senators, occasionally a governor and on Leap Year, a president. No one is forced to pick a particular candidate; he can vote for another or for nobody. If, for instance, Jacob Javits runs against Herbert Hehman for senator, I shall write in the name of my dog, Joe, who, I feel would surely represent me more adequately than either of these gentlemen. But there is no implacable enmity about all this. It is the give and take of a free system, with a little humor to boot.

No American hates his government nor does he regard himself as being governmed or ruled by his government. We still own our government and all officials are servants of the people. And when we weary of a public official, we do not need to kill him; we retire him to writing books as Mr. Truman has been doing.

But there is no enmity, certainly no implacable enmity.

Such a paragraph as the one I just quoted really explains why there is so much trouble in the world. Different peoples do not understand each other and that is worse, in spite of all the propaganda and goodwill, they cannot understand each other. Each race of man is like the youth who has discovered love for the first time and believes that he must be the first one who discovered it. The Russians, for some reason, cannot grasp that an American can be as patriotic as a Russian is. He feels that he alone appreciates this quality of love of country; therefore there must be an implacable enmity between the American people and their government. And when we look at such a brutal creature as Stalin was, we wonder that any people can be loyal to a government that he heads.

And than a war comes and all these people sacrifice their lives for their country, including the Germans who must sometimes have wondered as the idiosyncrasies of Hitler and his gang. Everybody comes to believe his is God's country—except a communist who only loves Russia.

Sciatic Nerve Very Susceptible To Hurt

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

While the excruciating pain of sciatica frequently begins following an attempt to lite a heavy object, you may get an attack simply by driving your car.

Sciatica won't kill you. It won't even make you weak. But the severe pain caused by the slightest movement of a leg may thoroughly disable you.

Exposed to Injury

The sciatic nerve, the longest in your body, is more exposed to internal and external injury and inflammation than any other. You may injure it just by walking or riding a bicycle.

Sitting on the edge of a chair or prolonged standing in poor posture may induce sciatica. Even driving your auto for long periods may be enough to start this disabling ailment.

Sciatic Pain

Sciatic pain may be gnawing, dull or shooting, constant or spasmodic. Generally, it starts in you leg. In some cases, there is only slight pain in the back and in others there is none.

If a ruptured intervertebral disk is responsible, chances are that the pain began while you were lifting smething heavy. You probably had a sensation that something gave way in your back.

Persons with ruptured disks usually have more trouble sitting than standing. And when they arise from a chair, they place one hand in the small of their back.

No matter how bad the pain is, your doctor will be able to help you. In extreme cases, surgery may be the best cure. In others, a few simple procedures probably will help.

Sleep on a cotton mattress laid over a heavy board which in turn rests on coiled bedsprings. This is good advice evdn if your backache is only a minor one.

You can also apply local heat over the entire course of the nerve by using an electric pad, heat lamp, hot water bottle, sitz bath or diathermy. A high vitamin diet with additional B complex probably is advisable.

In addition to pain-killing drugs, your physician might recommend spraying the painful area with ethyl chloride as frequently as every three hours.

Once you're up and around again, watch your posture. Stand and sit correctly. Faulty posture, remember, can lead to sciatica.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

I. G. A.: What causes a dropping of the bladder in women?

Answer: The most common cause, of course, is childbirth. During childbirth, the muscles that hold the bladder up may become weakened. This can usually be corrected by surgery.

Film Bit Players To Get $80 Day

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A fair day's wage for movie bit players has been set at $80 by the Screen Actors Guild and the Assn. of Motion Picture Producers.

The new four-year agreement raises the day player minimum from $70 to $80 immediately, and from $80 to $90 on Feb. 1, 1958. The weekly free-lance minimum jumps from $250 to $285 now, and to $300 in two years.

Lady Cops Cool On Uniform Idea

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's 81 policewomen have been notified they soon will be required to wear uniforms; they don't like it.

After Police Commissioner Timothy J. O'Connor disclosed the uniform plan, the women objected:

"Mature figures aren't suitable for uniforms; it's a waste of money and will impair efficiency; and you might as well not have policewomen at all if you put them in uniforms."

The Nation Today

James Marlow

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has foot - in - mouth trouble again, an ailment which afflicts it just as readily when Under secretary Hoover is in charge as when Secretary of State Dulles is here.

It has just tried to please both the Greeks and British in their dispute over the island of Cyprus, a British colony whose inhabitants, mostly of Greek descent, want self-government and union with Greece. The Greek government backs them.

The State Department made two tries and wound up making the British and Greeks both mad and glad, but not at the same time.

Dulles, who sometimes seems carried away with the possibilities of the English language, has made statements which caused him to spend a lot of time afterwards trying to explain, or explain away.

Examples: his promise President Eisenhower would cause "quiet" revolutions in the Russian satellites and that the "captive" people "can count on us"; his warnings of "massive retaliation"; his "brink of war" soliloquy in an interview with Life magazine.

But repeatedly, with Dulles either out of town or out of the country, the State Department under Hoover has managed to embarrass itself.

Last spring, when Dulles was on vacation, Hoover quickly rejected a Red Chinese call for U.S. and Red China talks to ease Far East tensions. This got a sour world reaction. Dulles quickly reversed it when he returned.

A few weeks ago, with Dulles vacationing in the Bahamas, the government without any public announcement was shipping tanks to Saudi Arabia although turning a deaf ear to the plea of Israel for arms as defense against the Arabs.

The story became public, and in headlines. At once Hoover ordered the shipment halted. He had Eisenhower's approval for this. Forty-eight hours later he let the tanks go.

Now Dulles is touring Southern Asia. Last week, after months of trying to stop the terrorism of the Greek Cypriots, Britain suddenly exiled their political and spiritual leader, Archbishop Makarios of the Greek Orthodox Church.

On Cyprus there were shootings and a general strike. The Greek government asked the United States to intervene.

In Athens American Ambassador Cannon talked to the Greek government.

He expressed this country's "sympathetic concern" over the Cyprus dispute and he praised the "dignity and statesmanship" of the Greek government at a moment when the Greeks have the British in a fury by their support of the Greek Cypriots.

The British protested. After hurried conferences the department came up with a statement. It said the United States was not taking sides. But it couldn't afford, because of Greek reaction, to back away altogether from what Cannon said.

So it repeated what Cannon said but appeared to try to make it look more diplomatic. It said: "We view present problems with diplomatic concern." The British cooled off. But the Greeks got hot.

Culver Academy Chieftain Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Col. William E. Gregory, 54, superintendent of Culver Military Academy in Indiana, died yesterday in Walter Reed Hospital after a heart attack.

A native of Blanchester, Ohio, Gregory was a high school principal in Hamilton, Ohio, for a year before he went to Culver.

Added Medical Colleges Urged

LEBANON (AP)—Ohio should consider establishment of medical and dental colleges at such state universities such as Bowling Green, Kent State and Miami, says Michael V. DiSalle, who seeks the Democratic nomination for governor.

He made the suggestion in a speech here last night in which he proposed creation of a commission to study expansion of the state's universities. He added:

"Ohio State University has just about reached its peak in size. Yet the growth of Ohio's population is causing increased demands on our professional schools."

Need For Holding Present Federal Tax Line

While there are always many people over the country demanding a reduction in taxes, and sometimes justifiably, it would seem to be just common sense for the federal government to hold the present federal tax line, get its budget balanced and then, if at all possible start some reduction of our national debt, rather than give way to election year propagandists who want to see some tax reduction.

The recent action of the Congressional House Wayns and Means committee was an important move along this line when it voted to continue the present corporation levy and federal excise levies.

Those who fully recognize the trying situation just now, understand that present tax levies are necessary for maintenance of a balanced budget this year. The political candidates who are seeking to make a loud campaign howl for an immediate decrease in taxes are purely playing an election year game for their own purposes and most of them recognize that their demands are not reasonable.

Particularly is this noticeable because some of the same ones, especially certain Democratic candidates, call loudly for more government "handouts" and guaranteeing of prices while asking for lower taxes at the same time. Such a course is impossible and candidates who are campaigning for such things are not showing good thinking in matters of government finances.

The next step is to guarantee that there also is no lowering of individual income taxes. A prosperous period like the present is the ideal time for debt reduction. To lower taxes would be to increase inflationary pressures, and to render more difficult the subsequent task of reducing public debt.

Although an election year presents an inevitable temptation to leaders of both parties, no logical case can be made for reducing income taxes in the immediate future. Every harbinger points now to an increased spending load for the federal government. The need to push aerial research and development becomes more apparent. The strides of Russian aviation, both in guided missiles and in warplanes, demonstrate the necessity for a reappraisal of U. S. defense efforts. The new Soviet economic challenge points to the possibility of need for expanded U. S. economic action.

With such challenges before the nation, increased demands on the federal coffers quite possibly will offset the increased revenues from expanded business activity. If so, we will be hard pressed to maintain a balanced budget and to accomplish even a little debt-reduction. As election year pressures mount, it will be the part of statesmanship, both in the administration and in the Congress, to hold fast to sound fiscal policy by holding the line on taxes.

Spring Brings Poetic Lines

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A wind that promises freshness to everyone sweepts like a benediction across the land.

It has been such a long, hard winter. It is such a pleasure to look across the acres dull with the duty of yesterday now freshspeared with the promise of tomorrow.

There is about this time such a bewilderment of tossing boughts, such a fog of confused buds, opening with restless fingers into leaves that know where they are reaching, such an overall fog of purposeful greenery!

Anywhere in the country now spring ruptures winter with a rapture evident to all. Wonder holds the eye.

In town, however, nature is policed by a duller constable. Yet the man in blue, plowing his daily city furrow, is first aware of the difference.

The old cop, plodding a worn beat, is the one who naturally is first aware of any change in the neighborhood. He has swung a wondering club at a brooding bud, broke it wide open, seen the pale green birth leaves it sheltered, pondered how he would get his own kids through school.

Meanwhile the people he patrols are stirred by an ancient rebirth. The old drum of humanity, tossed aside during the winter but not carried away by the neighborhood garbage collector, begins to beat . . . beat . . . beat.

In the big city there is no such thing as a first robin. Spring is a wind. It does odd things.

This wind churns up old, uncollected winter dust and blows it into everyone's eyes. But even as they grumble they realize there is something different about this wind.

The staleness of perpetual cold has gone from it. Behind its chill is a hidden warmth.

Nobody ordered it on schedule. Nobody sent it. But here it is. Lift a nose . . . the fragrance blown here started from afar.

The old people in the park lift sad eyes and welcome renewal. Young people who live in their own particular dark grudgingly greet a brightness they had forgotten and thought might never chance their way again.

Along the pavement the big fat male pigeon pursues his irrefrangible path toward a duller-clad lady pigeon who is seriously stumbling all over her feet to keep from getting out of his way.

Ahn, spring . . . sweet majesty . . . the seas sigh softer . . . the air sings . . . all land-bound creatures scent and surge toward freedom . . . oh, blossoming, rule the world! Stride on tremendous feet.

Now is your time. It is such a little while.

It All Depends On Who Says It

By George Sokolsky

A wise man said the other day that President Eisenhower spoiled all dinner conversation by announcing that he would run again. Now, the wise man said, there is nothing to talk about except the probability of Dick Nixon running for Vice President, Grace Kelly's marriage to Grimaldi, and the gyrations of the French.

Well, that is conversation enough for most dinner parties. Of course, a good argument can be started by being either pro-Arab or pro-Israel, particularly among those who dislike being classified as pro-anything that may prove dangerous in a month or two. Even in the hospital, I heard the latest cliche which is: "Money isn't everything but it gets a lot of things." That profound remark is supposed to be final and to represent profound thought.

As I have to live, temporarily I hope, on 1,500 calories, which used to cover my breakfast, I shall not be listening to such conversations for some time to come. Nevertheless, by indirection, I hear the latest pearls of wisdom and it would seem that what is most dangerous in this very rich and self-satisfied country is that having often been on the brink of more wars and having somehow evaded them, we are cultivating a sense of security that "God's in his Heaven and all's right with the world," which makes it very easy. This may explain the current vogue of Vodka.

So one looks at "Pravda" and comes across a paragraph like this:

"Contrary to the cause of capitalist countries, where the state and the people are implacable enemies, the Soviet State is strong through the consciousness (soznatelnost) of the masses, through their active participation in state construction in all fields of economic and cultural life. The profund comprehension of the unity of the interests of the state and of the people, the knowledge that Soviet people are working for themselves, for their security, multiplies their forces and inspires them toward new labor feats."

That is a topsy-turvy description of our country which is supposed to be capitalistic. Surely the American people are not implacable enemies of their government, although none of us like tax-collectors which is only natural. Our government is a body of our own selection. Every two years we go to the polls and pick representatives, senators, occasionally a governor and on Leap Year, a president. No one is forced to pick a particular candidate; he can vote for another or for nobody. If, for instance, Jacob Javits runs against Herbert Hehman for senator, I shall write in the name of my dog, Joe, who, I feel would surely represent me more adequately than either of these gentlemen. But there is no implacable enmity about all this. It is the give and take of a free system, with a little humor to boot.

No American hates his government nor does he regard himself as being governmed or ruled by his government. We still own our government and all officials are servants of the people. And when we weary of a public official, we do not need to kill him; we retire him to writing books as Mr. Truman has been doing.

But there is no enmity, certainly no implacable enmity.

Such a paragraph as the one I just quoted really explains why there is so much trouble in the world. Different peoples do not understand each other and that is worse, in spite of all the propaganda and goodwill, they cannot understand each other. Each race of man is like the youth who has discovered love for the first time and believes that he must be the first one who discovered it. The Russians, for some reason, cannot grasp that an American can be as patriotic as a Russian is. He feels that he alone appreciates this quality of love of country; therefore there must be an implacable enmity between the American people and their government. And when we look at such a brutal creature as Stalin was, we wonder that any people can be loyal to a government that he heads.

And than a war comes and all these people sacrifice their lives for their country, including the Germans who must sometimes have wondered as the idiosyncrasies of Hitler and his gang. Everybody comes to believe his is God's country—except a communist who only loves Russia.

Sciatic Nerve Very Susceptible To Hurt

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

While the excruciating pain of sciatica frequently begins following an attempt to lite a heavy object, you may get an attack simply by driving your car.

Sciatica won't kill you. It won't even make you weak. But the severe pain caused by the slightest movement of a leg may thoroughly disable you.

Exposed to Injury

The sciatic nerve, the longest in your body, is more exposed to internal and external injury and inflammation than any other. You may injure it just by walking or riding a bicycle.

Sitting on the edge of a chair or prolonged standing in poor posture may induce sciatica. Even driving your auto for long periods may be enough to start this disabling ailment.

Sciatic Pain

Sciatic pain may be gnawing, dull or shooting, constant or spasmodic. Generally, it starts in you leg. In some cases, there is only slight pain in the back and in others there is none.

If a ruptured intervertebral disk is responsible, chances are that the pain began while you were lifting smething heavy. You probably had a sensation that something gave way in your back.

Persons with ruptured disks usually have more trouble sitting than standing. And when they arise from a chair, they place one hand in the small of their back.

No matter how bad the pain is, your doctor will be able to help you. In extreme cases, surgery may be the best cure. In others, a few simple procedures probably will help.

Sleep on a cotton mattress laid over a heavy board which in turn rests on coiled bedsprings. This is good advice evdn if your backache is only a minor one.

You can also apply local heat over the entire course of the nerve by using an electric pad, heat lamp, hot water bottle, sitz bath or diathermy. A high vitamin diet with additional B complex probably is advisable.

In addition to pain-killing drugs, your physician might recommend spraying the painful area with ethyl chloride as frequently as every three hours.

Once you're up and around again, watch your posture. Stand and sit correctly. Faulty posture, remember, can lead to sciatica.

Answer: The most common cause, of course, is childbirth. During childbirth, the muscles that hold the bladder up may become weakened. This can usually be corrected by surgery.

The Nation Today

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has foot - in - mouth trouble again, an ailment which afflicts it just as readily when Under secretary Hoover is in charge as when Secretary of State Dulles is here.

It has just tried to please both the Greeks and British in their dispute over the island of Cyprus, a British colony whose inhabitants, mostly of Greek descent, want self-government and union with Greece. The Greek government backs them.

The State Department made two tries and wound up making the British and Greeks both mad and glad, but not at the same time.

Dulles, who sometimes seems carried away with the possibilities of the English language, has made statements which caused him to spend a lot of time afterwards trying to explain, or explain away.

Examples: his promise President Eisenhower would cause "quiet" revolutions in the Russian satellites and that the "captive" people "can count on us"; his warnings of "massive retaliation"; his "brink of war" soliloquy in an interview with Life magazine.

But repeatedly, with Dulles either out of town or out of the country, the State Department under Hoover has managed to embarrass itself.

Last spring, when Dulles was on vacation, Hoover quickly rejected a Red Chinese call for U.S. and Red China talks to ease Far East tensions. This got a sour world reaction. Dulles quickly reversed it when he returned.

A few weeks ago, with Dulles vacationing in the Bahamas, the government without any public announcement was shipping tanks to Saudi Arabia although turning a deaf ear to the plea of Israel for arms as defense against the Arabs.

The story became public, and in headlines. At once Hoover ordered the shipment halted. He had Eisenhower's approval for this. Forty-eight hours later he let the tanks go.

Now Dulles is touring Southern Asia. Last week, after months of trying to stop the terrorism of the Greek Cypriots, Britain suddenly exiled their political and spiritual leader, Archbishop Makarios of the Greek Orthodox Church.

On Cyprus there were shootings and a general strike. The Greek government asked the United States to intervene.

In Athens American Ambassador Cannon talked to the Greek government.

He expressed this country's "sympathetic concern" over the Cyprus dispute and he praised the "dignity and statesmanship" of of the Greek government at a moment when the Greeks have the British in a fury by their support of the Greek Cypriots.

The British protested. After hurried conferences the department came up with a statement. It said the United States was not taking sides. But it couldn't afford, because of Greek reaction, to back away altogether from what Cannon said.

So it repeated what Cannon said but appeared to try to make it look more diplomatic. It said: "We view present problems with diplomatic concern." The British cooled off. But the Greeks got hot.

Added Medical Colleges Urged

LEBANON (AP)—Ohio should consider establishment of medical and dental colleges at such state universities such as Bowling Green, Kent State and Miami, says Michael V. DiSalle, who seeks the Democratic nomination for governor.

He made the suggestion in a speech here last night in which he proposed creation of a commission to study expansion of the state's universities. He added:

"Ohio State University has just about reached its peak in size. Yet the growth of Ohio's population is causing increased demands on our professional schools."

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: For several years my twin sister Jane has been widowed. Since the day she lost her husband she has wanted to be left alone. Incidentally she visits his grave every week in all kinds of weather. I know she still misses him terribly.

She doesn't want me, or any of her relatives or friends, to visit her; and we can't imagine why this is. On rare occasions a friend has visited her; but so seldom that I can almost count the times.

Jane telephones me almost every day, and I also telephone her, as we were always together and enjoyed the same things when we were young. But I can't understand her present way of living. She will come to my house to visit at times, and will be very chatty; then again she will be very sarcastic.

It begins to look as if she will never change, after all these years of being alone. As we are twins, how-come she is different from me? All of us feel she should be more sociable.

K. R.

DEAR K. R.: It occurs to me that the overall difficulty, as described, is not so much in Jane herself, as it is in the self-righteous, self-congratulatory attitude of her relatives—who feel so good about their social showing as compared to hers, in her widowhood.

It is easy enough to pick anybody's performance to pieces, unflatteringly, if you are so disposed. And equally easy to see the sunny (or favorable) side of untypical conduct, if you happen to warmly love the person discussed.

As to why she doesn't entertain—doesn't repay hospitality tit-for tat—I suppose it is because she unconsciously identifies her dwelling place with her inmost self, as all intuitive persons do. And just as she shrinks from having her soul familiarly seen and scorned, as it were, by unsympathetic kin, so does she treat her home as a sort of last refuge from a callously wounding world.

To help her dissolve this guardedness, you should love her warmly and uncritically. And be grateful that she turns to you, thus giving you opportunity to diminish her loneliness by that much. How-come she differs from you? Because she isn't you; she is herself, a soul in her own right. And insofar as she differs, it doesn't mean she is any less of a person, or any less admirabl ethan you—or other strictly conventional types.

Income Tax Cut Method Eyed By Solon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) said today he knows of no move to add a cut in personal income taxes to a House-passed bill to extend present corporation income and excise rates.

There had been some talk that advocates of election year income tax relief might use this one-year extension bill as the vehicle for their effort.

But George said "I know of no one" who will make such a move and added that "I have no such plan myself." He said, "I do not want to tie up the use bill in any way."

He said he regards it as important to get quick action on the measure to extend the corporation and excise taxes. Without such action, they would drop to pre-Korean War levels on April 1, costing the government $3 billion in annual revenue.

George has said he hopes an income tax cut, perhaps through a $100 increase in individual exemptions, can be put through this session.

But he reiterated he wants to see reports on the April 15 income tax collections before deciding what he might propose.

The House yesterday passed the extension bill 366-4, following the recommendation of President Eisenhower that no drop in excises or the corporation income tax rates at the 52 per cent level for another year until April 1, 1957 preventing a drop to 47 per cent.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: For several years my twin sister Jane has been widowed. Since the day she lost her husband she has wanted to be left alone. Incidentally she visits his grave every week in all kinds of weather. I know she still misses him terribly.

She doesn't want me, or any of her relatives or friends, to visit her; and we can't imagine why this is. On rare occasions a friend has visited her; but so seldom that I can almost count the times.

Jane telephones me almost every day, and I also telephone her, as we were always together and enjoyed the same things when we were young. But I can't understand her present way of living. She will come to my house to visit at times, and will be very chatty; then again she will be very sarcastic.

It begins to look as if she will never change, after all these years of being alone. As we are twins, how-come she is different from me? All of us feel she should be more sociable.

K. R.

DEAR K. R.: It occurs to me that the overall difficulty, as described, is not so much in Jane herself, as it is in the self-righteous, self-congratulatory attitude of her relatives—who feel so good about their social showing as compared to hers, in her widowhood.

It is easy enough to pick anybody's performance to pieces, unflatteringly, if you are so disposed. And equally easy to see the sunny (or favorable) side of untypical conduct, if you happen to warmly love the person discussed.

As to why she doesn't entertain—doesn't repay hospitality tit-for tat—I suppose it is because she unconsciously identifies her dwelling place with her inmost self, as all intuitive persons do. And just as she shrinks from having her soul familiarly seen and scorned, as it were, by unsympathetic kin, so does she treat her home as a sort of last refuge from a callously wounding world.

To help her dissolve this guardedness, you should love her warmly and uncritically. And be grateful that she turns to you, thus giving you opportunity to diminish her loneliness by that much How-come she differs from you? Because she isn't you; she is herself, a soul in her own right. And insofar as she differs, it doesn't mean she is any less of a person, or any less admirabl ethan you—or other strictly conventional types.

Income Tax Cut Method Eyed By Solon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) said today he knows of no move to add a cut in personal income taxes to a House-passed bill to extend present corporation income and excise rates.

There had been some talk that advocates of election year income tax relief might use this one-year extension bill as the vehicle for their effort.

But George said "I know of no one" who will make such a move and added that "I have no such plan myself." He said, "I do not want to tie up the use bill in any way."

He said he regards it as important to get quick action on the measure to extend the corporation and excise taxes. Without such action, they would drop to pre-Korean War levels on April 1, costing the government $3 billion in annual revenue.

George has said he hopes an income tax cut, perhaps through a $100 increase in individual exemptions, can be put through this session.

But he reiterated he wants to see reports on the April 15 income tax collections before deciding what he might propose.

The House yesterday passed the extension bill 366-4, following the recommendation of President Eisenhower that no drop in excises or the corporation income tax rates at the 52 per cent level for another year until April 1, 1957 preventing a drop to 47 per cent.

Michigan GOP May Use Old Taft Technique

Ohio Republican Chief Outlines Tactics Used Against Dems, Labor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Campaign tactics used successfully by the late Sen. Robert A. Taft in Ohio may be adopted by Michigan Republicans this year.

Marked by labor leaders for political annihilation, Taft met their challenge head-on in 1950 to win re-election handily.

John Feikens, Michigan GOP state chairman, got a first-hand account of the Taft campaign from Ray C. Bliss, Ohio Republican chairman, at a meeting of party leaders here last November.

Last weekend Bliss gave a detailed explanation to Michigan Republican leaders in Detroit at Feikens' invitation.

The Detroit meeting was held in the 14th Congressional District, home base of Walter Reuther, AFL-CIO vice president and a power in Bay State Democratic politics.

Bliss told the Michigan meeting it was time to meet the Democrat-labor front head-on in the Taft manner to win seats in Congress, elect a Detroit mayor and other Republican candidates.

Bliss said Taft's success proved that union leaders do not control the votes of rank and file members at the polls.

He recalled that head-on campaigns won election for Republican mayors in the CIO-labor city of Akron before Bliss advanced from Summit County to state chairman.

Akron's present mayor is a Democrat.

The Ohioan stressed that candidates would have to get out and work. Taft waged an intensive campaign featured by hand-shaking visits with workers in shops and factories.

Some politicians attributed much of Taft's show of strength in the turbulent 1950 campaign to weakness of his Democratic opponent, Joseph T. Ferguson, then state auditor.

But Bliss asserted that labor's all-out efforts to crush Taft, co-author of the Taft-Hartley Act, might have made headway without a determined campaign by the senator.

After Taft's smashing victory, Ferguson conceded he had overmatched himself and union leaders admitted overplaying their hand by loud words and big political spending.

Parents Held As Pet Ocelot Maims Baby

WASHINGTON (AP)—The parents of a 7-week-old boy maimed in his crib by the couple's pet ocelot were charged today with keeping a wild and vicious animal in their home.

The charge was brought against Walter T. Perry, 28, and his wife June, 24, of nearby Beltsville, Md., by Prince Georges County police. It carries a maximum penalty of a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

The baby was reported in serious condition today. Part of his left foot, including the toes, was chewed off by the ocelot Tuesday.

The infant, Thomas Perry, was taken to a hospital after he was found crying in a bloodsoaked crib.

Thomas' condition was discovered by Winslow Prescott, 49, a handyman who was caring for him and an older sister at the Perry home.

The parents returned from a New York visit Tuesday night after learning of the accident. They said the ocelot generally had the run of the house. The cat-like animal is about two feet long from nose to tail.

Prescott was arrested Tuesday night on a charge of failure to provide proper supervision of the child. He was released on $200 bond.

Preston described himself as "handyman, male nurse, domestic and friend of the family." He said he had served in the Army Medical Corps.

Perry is an organizer for the International Ladies Garment Workers Union and travels considerably.

Prescott said the Perrys had the animals for show purposes. The ocelot came from Brazil, he said.

Church Federation Receives Grant

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Foundation, moving to combat juvenile delinquency, has granted $20,000 to the Cleveland Church Federation to establish a "Big Brother" program.

Big Brother programs encourage adult men to assume limited responsibility for underprivileged boys. The men would do such things as help finance vacations in the country and be available for advice on teenage problems.

The foundation announced a total of $72,275 in grants. Others include $1,200 to the Cleveland office of the state aid for the aged division, $22,000 to the Cleveland Health Museum, $10,000 to Cleveland Institute of Music and $9,500 to Western Reserve University.

One-Time Ohio Minister In Hollywood With 25 Kids

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Col. Dean Hess was in Hollywood this week with 25 of his children.

The kids were flown in from Korea, where they live in an orphanage which Col. Hess founded and helps support. They are here to act in "Battle Hymn," the film version of the colonel's amazing life.

Col. Hess, lean, handsome and dark-haired, was at Universal-International when his charges arrived and he rushed forward to greet them affectionately. The kids, who ranged from 2 to 8, chattered happily in Korean as he shepherded them to the wardrobe departments to be fitted for their costumes. They changed from their neat outfits to tattered clothes, which is how Hess found many of them in strife-torn Korea.

While he watched over the wide-eyed youngsters he talked about the movie.

"Yes, it is somewhat eerie to be reliving your life," he observed. "I find myself looking back with regret about things I should have done."

The Hess story, which will be portrayed by Rock Hudson, begins in Marietta, Ohio, where he was a minister in the Church of the Disciples of Christ. The preacher, who had flown his light Warplane to churches around Ohio, enlisted in the Air Force during World War II.

"A commission as a chaplain came through after I had graduated as a first lieutenant," he recalled. "But I sent it back. I felt that I couldn't ask my neighbor to bear arms against the enemy if I didn't do so myself. I also felt I could accomplish more as a regular officer than as a chaplain. There is a natural barrier that exists between soldiers and chaplains."

He flew 63 fighter-bomber missions in Europe. During one of them, a bomb dropped accidentally. He later learned that it fell on an orphanage. This weighed heavily on his mind.

During the Korean War, he helped organize the ROK air force and flew 250 missions himself. He was touched by the pitiful bands of orphans in that wretched land and decided to do something about it. He took over an old government building on Chenju and airlifted the orphans out of the combat zones.

Now there are 714 in the orphanage, and Hesshas donated proceeds from his book and the movie to its support.

Now special assistant to the air force assistant chief of staff for personnel in the Pentagon, Hess will oversee at least part of the filming of his story. But he may leave abruptly for Alexandria, Va., where his wife expects soon to give birth to their third child.

There were 36,000 in 1954 due to motor vehicle accidents, along with 1,250,000 injuries, at a total cost of $4,400,000,000 according to the National Safety Council.

Political Reporters Believe Tennessee Back With Dems

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 14 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower carried Tennessee over Adlai Stevenson in 1952 by the slim margin of 2,437 votes out of 892,000.

Gov. Frank Clement says he couldn't have done this except for "a promise three days before the election that he would preserve and protect the Tennesse Vally Authority and operate it more efficiently."

"He has not kept that promise," Clement said in an interview. Clement says he and other Democratic speakers will make this the prime issue of the campaign and expect to defeat Eisenhower in the state next November.

But Guy L. Smith of Knoxville, the Republican state chairman, said Eisenhower's popularity in Tennessee has grown steadily and he looks for a 50,000-vote margin for him this year.

Smith scoffed at the suggestion that the Democrats can beat Eisenhower in Tennessee on the TVA issue.

"The average Tennessean has sense enough to see that nothing has been done to injure TVA," Smith continued. "President Eisenhower has shown every disposition to protect and preserve it."

The extent to which voters react on that issue could be a major factor in how Tennessee goes this year.

Most of the political reporters who cover the state from the capital city say the Democrats will have the advantage this year.

The electricity furnished by TVA lights the homes, runs the factories and does many of the farm chores all over the state.

The rates are low and few would have them go up. Many think any change in TVA's operations might have that effect.

Gov. Clement, the state's Democratic senators, Estes Kefauver and Albert Gore, and other officials fought bitterly when the Eisenhower administration signed the Dixon-Yate contract. Since canceled, the contract would have had private industry build a steam plant in West Memphis, Ark., to supply TVA with power replacing electricity furnished an Atomic Energy Commission project.

"Tennessee believes in public power and what it can do for the people," Clement said. "And the people who fear what th3 administration will do on the public power front in the years ahead are well organized."

GOP Chairman Smith said the Dixon-Yates contract issue "has been settled." He said he is convinced that "thousands more Democrats will join the Eisenhower swing in November because they approve the way he has conducted his administration."

Firemen Unable Save Snowplows

OSWEGATCHIE, N. Y. (AP)—This is what is known as a vicious circle: A fire truck couldn't get to a fire in the town garage here because of snow-covered roads.

The fire, which leveled the garage, was discovered as highway workers reported for snow removal. Three snowplows were destroyed.

3 Teen-Age Boys Given Life Terms

BALTIMORE (AP)—Three boys in their teens faced life in prison today following their conviction of first degree murder in the holdup-slaying of grocer Louis Pristoop.

Sentenced were Tyrone Stokely, 17, Edward Butler and Richard Briscoe, both 15.

Judges James K. Cullen and Cornelius P. Mundy, who returned the verdict, said only the age and mental status of the boys saved them from the death penalty.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 14 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower carried Tennessee over Adlai Stevenson in 1952 by the slim margin of 2,437 votes out of 892,000.

Gov. Frank Clement says he couldn't have done this except for "a promise three days before the election that he would preserve and protect the Tennesse Vally Authority and operate it more efficiently."

"He has not kept that promise," Clement said in an interview. Clement says he and other Democratic speakers will make this the prime issue of the campaign and expect to defeat Eisenhower in the state next November.

But Guy L. Smith of Knoxville, the Republican state chairman, said Eisenhower's popularity in Tennessee has grown steadily and he looks for a 50,000-vote margin for him this year.

Smith scoffed at the suggestion that the Democrats can beat Eisenhower in Tennessee on the TVA issue.

"The average Tennessean has sense enough to see that nothing has been done to injure TVA," Smith continued. "President Eisenhower has shown every disposition to protect and preserve it."

The extent to which voters react on that issue could be a major factor in how Tennessee goes this year.

Most of the political reporters who cover the state from the capital city say the Democrats will have the advantage this year.

The electricity furnished by TVA lights the homes, runs the factories and does many of the farm chores all over the state.

The rates are low and few would have them go up. Many think any change in TVA's operations might have that effect.

Gov. Clement, the state's Democratic senators, Estes Kefauver and Albert Gore, and other officials fought bitterly when the Eisenhower administration signed the Dixon-Yate contract. Since canceled, the contract would have had private industry build a steam plant in West Memphis, Ark., to supply TVA with power replacing electricity furnished an Atomic Energy Commission project.

"Tennessee believes in public power and what it can do for the people," Clement said. "And the people who fear what th3 administration will do on the public power front in the years ahead are well organized."

GOP Chairman Smith said the Dixon-Yates contract issue "has been settled." He said he is convinced that "thousands more Democrats will join the Eisenhower swing in November because they approve the way he has conducted his administration."

Firemen Unable Save Snowplows

OSWEGATCHIE, N. Y. (AP)—This is what is known as a vicious circle: A fire truck couldn't get to a fire in the town garage here because of snow-covered roads.

The fire, which leveled the garage, was discovered as highway workers reported for snow removal. Three snowplows were destroyed.

3 Teen-Age Boys Given Life Terms

BALTIMORE (AP)—Three boys in their teens faced life in prison today following their conviction of first degree murder in the holdup-slaying of grocer Louis Pristoop.

Sentenced were Tyrone Stokely, 17, Edward Butler and Richard Briscoe, both 15.

Judges James K. Cullen and Cornelius P. Mundy, who returned the verdict, said only the age and mental status of the boys saved them from the death penalty.

Sharp Hike In Economic Aid Hinted For India From U. S.

NEW DELHI (AP) — Informed sources said today the United States, in a move to counter the Soviet economic offensive and boost American relations with India, has decided to increase aid to India "substantially."

The sources said that the State Department probably would give India up to $75 million for economic development during the 1956-57 fiscal year. This would be about 50 per cent higher than the allocation this year.

In addition, the sources added, India next year would get technical assistance of about $10 million. This is about what she is getting this year.

With India also in a good position to get something from President Eisenhower's special regional fund for Asia, the sources said, total American aid for India could reach $100 million.

A decision to boost aid to India apparently was made during Secretary of State Dulles' weekend visit. He reportedly became convinced something had to be done to improve shaky Indian - American relations.

Meanwhile, Dulles was flying to Thailand after praising the "strong patriotic leadership" of Indonesia's leaders and extending Eisenhower's invitation for President Soekarno to visit the United States.

In Bangkok, it was announced that an experimental atomic reactor for southeast Asia will be built in Thailand as a result of an agreement signed today by Dulles and Thailand's Foreign Minister, Prince Wan Waithyakon.

The reactor was promised to southeast Asia at last year's Colombo plan conference.

The installation, which is to become a training center for South east Asian atomic power students and technicians,had been expected to be located in the Philippines or Ceylon. Both wanted it.

Earlier today in Washington,the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission reported it had authorized the sale of heavy water to six nations. Among them is India which will get 21 tons of the material at a price of $28 a pound. Heavy water is used in atomic reactors.

Lt. Gov. Brown Labels Group As 'King Makers'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, said Wednesday night that the political "king makers" were out to defeat him at the polls in the May 8 primary.

Brown said in a television address:

"There is a certain group of professional lobbyists and a small but powerful clique of vested business interests which have joined forces to set themselves up as 'king makers' of Ohio politics.

They have chosen their candidate—my opponent for the Republican nomination . . . (Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill)—and they will show no mercy for anyone who dares stand in their way."

Brown said the "king makers" backed Gov. Lausche for the past ten years,. He added that there was talk that they had selected O'Neill as Lausche's "heir apparent."

Man Would Add Democrat To Name

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Roy R. C. Sanderson, 36, of nearby Torrance, has filed a petition to change his name to Roy Democrat Sanderson.

"The two initials are cumbersome and embarrassing," Sanderson told a judge. "I have had a lifelong affiliation with the Democratic party, and I take great pride in that fact."

Furthermore, he said, the initials don't stand for anything.

Under California law, it will be five weeks before the court can make Sanderson a Democrat in name, as well as in fact.

New JP Terms Said To Be Only 2 Years

COLUMBUS (AP)—Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill has ruled that justices of the peace starting terms last Jan. 1 will serve for two years instead o' four.

In the opinion delivered yesterday to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, O'Neill also ruled that elections for justices can be held only in November of "the odd numbered years."

Turnpike Revenue Showing Boost Over Previous Month

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Toll revenues on the Northern Ohio Turnpike are on the increase.

Comptroller John Soller told the Ohio Turnpike Commission at its meeting yesterday that tolls for the first 12 days of March ran about 15 per cent ahead of the same period last month.

Robert S. Beightler, commission member, said the increase might be more for the rest of March.

Commission members have expressed concern over failure off turnpike revenues to come up to expectations, largely because big trucks have been avoiding the toll road.

Chairman James W. Shocknessy said chairmen of Indiana and New Jersey turnpikes were ready to attend a meeting called to discuss toll problems. He said the Pennsylvania chairman indicated he would attend the conference tentatively set for Philadelphia.

S. O. Linzell, state highway director and commission member, said a report by engineers restudying feasibility of the proposed Cincinnati-Conneaut Turnpike would be completed by May 1, on schedule.

The commission unanimously named Col. V. O. Robertson to a new job as director of administrative services. He now is executive assistant to the acting executive director, C. W. Hartford.

Beightler objected to creation of the new post, but went along with the proposal after being assured that it would not call for additional employes. Robertson will continue to receive his present salary of $10,000 a year in the new job. He said the change would give him additional authority in performing his duties.

The commission also approved creation of a central hiring board for non-supervisory personnel. Department heads now do such hiring.

Missouri Road Patrolmen Picking On Ohioans, Claim

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Robert L. Moulton, chairman of the Ohio Reciprocity Board, says Missouri highway patrolmen who arrested Ohio truck drivers were acting in retaliation against Ohio's controversial axle-mile tax.

Missouri patrolmen arrested 36 truckers, mostly from Ohio, in downtown St. Louis Monday.

The patrolmen said the drivers either lacked Missouri license plates or had overloaded vehicles.

Moulton, who also is chairman of the state utilities commission, which regulates trucking operations, pointed out Ohio still lets Missouri truckers use Ohio roads without having to buy Ohio license plates.

He said he regarded arrest of some of the Ohio truckers as a retaliatory action against Ohio's axle-mile tax. Court action brought by truckers fighting the tax was followed by cancellation of licensing reciprocity agreements between Ohio and several other states. Efforts to negotiate new agreements have not been entirely successful.

The tax is on trucks of three or more axles and ranges from one-half to 2½ cents a mile, depending on the size of the truck.

"We're not stopping anyone in Ohio for not having Ohio license plates," Moulton said. "We grant complete reciprocity on them and always have."

A highway patrolman in St. Louis said about the arrests, "Since they're picking up our drivers in Ohio, we're keeping just as sharp an eye out for them as they are for us."

Moulton said Ohio is stopping trucks subject to the axle-mile tax that do not display stickers showing they are registered for the tax. And Ohio stops trucks that are overloaded, he added. Moulton said he expected overloaded Ohio trucks to be stopped in Missouri.

Last December Moulton notified Missouri Ohio would continue to collect the axle-mile tax and asked that state not to retaliate by making Ohio truckers buy Missouri license plates.

Boom Towns In Ohio A-Area Feel Severely Big Changes

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Times - Star said Monday that Waverly and Piketon—boom towns during the building of an Atomic Energy Commission plant — have felt severely the result of the gigantic project being completed 18 months ahead of time.

Robert Heidler, a reporter for the newspaper, said a visit to the towns, brought this information:

Waverly's population in 1952 was 1,650 but it swelled to 8,000 in 3½ years. Piketon was a village of 850 before the government job began, and had increased to 6,000 when it was completed.

Business men, expecting a five year boom, expanded in every way. The drugstores in the county increased from a single store to five. Waverly increased the number of furniture stores from two to five. Government-backed housing projects in the towns and surrounding area were rushed to completion, until some 1,600 were built.

Some 4,000 trailers housed thousands of workers near Piketon. A supermarket manager said business boomed to $14,000 a week, and now had dropped to $4,500. Real estate prices increased to $2,500 an acre but now have dropped to from $50 to $200.

Of the 1,200 houses built in Waverly with federal government support, approximately 400 are vacant, Heidler said. The rest have been turned back to the federal housing administration.

Approximately 215 "flat top" houses for workers in Waverly have been sold, or will be sold, for $400 each and taken away.

One large industry, county officials said, would be the salvation of Waverly. They said the land where 215 flat tops stand is ideal for something, since it has three streets, electricity, water, sewers, and soon will have gas lines.

Piketon officials, too, hope for an industry or industries to settle there.

If the industries come to the area, the Times-Star said, the officials believe the 3,000 or more idle men and women will be absorbed.

Ohio Education Panel Mum On Racial Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Board of Education declared at its meeting here Tuesday that it will "take action in accordance with law" against districts where the courts rule unlawful segregation exists.

The board, however, failed to adopt a motion by Cleveland member Charles P. Lucas to establish a committee to investigate "allegations of segregation."

The board agreed with Frank Siedel of Rocky River, who said in his resolution to follow the courts in the matter of segregation, that the state board "has neither the means nor the right to take action on this question without final determination by the courts."

Loren E. Souers Jr., of Canton, noted that there is only one case involving segregation in the state now before the courts. He was referring to the Hillsboro case.

Charlton Myers of Marion said, "it appears to me that this is a local matter rather than a state matter."

Earlier the board decided to continue present practice in the granting of emergency teacher certificates and authorized a study of whether standards must be lowered to meet the critical teacher shortage.

Harold Bowers, state supervisor of teacher training, told the board it would be ten years before the state could expect to have a fully trained teacher in every public school classroom.

Bowers said the rate of issuing emergency certificates might have to be stepped up to help meet the teacher shortage. About 200 certificates are now being issued annually.

The board approved the transfer of a farm from the Carroll Local District in Fairfield County to the Franklin County District.

Cleveland Chiefs Debate Crime Rate

CLEVELAND (AP) — Councilman Harry T. Marshall says Cleveland's streets are full of hoodlums.

But Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze defended the city and disputed Marshall's claim that Cleveland "has surrendered to the hoodlums."

"Our streets are unsafe," Marshall said. "The hoodlums roam in gangs and rob women and attack children. It's to the everlasting shame of this community. Everybody walks the streets at night at his own peril."

Celebrezze retorted the councilman should not create the impression "law and order have gone to the dogs." He said the city has one of the best records in the nation in lowering the crime rate.

BIS Aide Named Parole Consultant

NEW YORK (AP)—Cleo B. Dolan, 37, assistant superintendent of the Boys' Industrial School in Lancaster, Ohio has been appointed National Probation and Parole Assn consultant for Ohio and Indiana.

Dolan will assume his new post April 1 and will establish his office in Columbus.

The appointment was announced by Will C. Turnbladh, executive director of the National Probation and Parole Association NPAA.

He said that recently officials had invited the NPAA into Ohio and Indiana "to develop greater citizen leadership in dealing with the problems of crime, juvenile delinquency and family breakup."

THE MOST SURPRISED mother in Chicago is 21-year-old Mrs. Shirley Horvath, holding her first-born, husky George Edward, who weighed in at nine pounds, 14¾ ounces. Declaring the stork's arrival was absolutely unexpected, Mrs. Horvath declared, "I never had an ache or a pain or any other indication other than gaining weight." Her husband, Harold, 31, was surprised, too — he fainted. (International Soundphoto)

Ike Feels U. S. Interests In Jeopardy In Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said yesterday that U. S. interests in the Middle East are gravely jeopardized.

He also disclosed that, in a secret exchange of letters with Premier Bulganin last fall, he had raised the question of Soviet penetration of the area.

With respect to the violent British-Greek dispute over Cyprus, Eisenhower told his news conference the United States is ready to do anything reasonable and helpful to help in a solution. But he made it clear the solution will have to come from Britain and Greece essentially.

Discussing Israeli-Arab hostility in Palestine, Eisenhower said the United States never said flatly it would not supply arms to Israel.

United States policy to date, he said, has been to avoid an arms race in the area in the belief that the best prospect for peace and for Israeli security lies in the United Nations.

The question of the Eisenhower-Bulganin correspondence and its connection with the Middle East, came after the President said he wanted to make a correction in something he had said last week.

He recalled that he had said he had raised the question of Russia's Middle East activities—meaning the sale of arms to Egypt—with Bulganin and Communist boss Khrushchev at the Geneva conference in July.

He had said also last week that the Russian response had been that the arms sales were "purely commercial."

Eisenhower's version was in conflict with testimony Secretary of State Dulles gave the Senate Foreign Relations Committee several weeks ago. Dulles said the arms matter was not raised by the United States at Geneva.

Today the President said he had rechecked his recollection and found that the Soviet view had been expressed to him about the first of October in an exchange of letters with Bulganin.

Eisenhower opened his news conference with an informal statement on Cyprus obviously designed to back the State Department's assertion Tuesday night that this country is "not taking sides."

Eisenhower described the Greeks and the British as two of America's very best friends, said the United States is friendly to both and that both are vitally necessary to success of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Meanwhile the State Department prodded both Greeks and Britons to put aside violence and force in their bitter Cyprus dispute and return to the negotiating table.

'Actuality Drama' On TV To Stress Mental Illness

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 10 million americans now suffer from some form of mental disorder . . . In the past 10 years the population has increased 20 per cent while the number of mental hospital patients has increased by 44 per cent . . . Still hospital facilities are nowhere near adequate and large numbers of people are ignorant about mental disease, its nature and its therapy . . .

This is part of the background which has inspired a striking 90-minute filmed "actuality drama" which comes to the home screen via CBS-TV next Sunday afternoon. The work of the CBS Public Affairs Department and endorsed by the American Psychiatric Assn. it is entitled "Out of Darkness."

Specific credit for the program goes to a quiet, intense writer-producer, Albert Wasserman, 35, who spent 3½ months with a camera crew at the Metropolitan State Hospital, Norwalk, Calif., filming life within a mental hospital.

"The idea behind 'Out of Darkness,' " says Wasserman, "is that mental patients are not a strange alien species. Patients are essentially people. There is always hope for their recovery."

Orson Welles serves as narrator of the program. Dr. William Menninger, a world-renowned psychiatrist, discusses some of the medical aspects of mental health.

But what gives "Out of Darkness" both focus and dramatic impact is its study of a specific woman patient, suffering from catatonic schizophrenia. Her symptoms are those of an extremely rigid, withdrawn personality.

The TV audience will see her from the time of her entrance to the hospital until she is well on the road to social recovery. Hers is not an acted role. She is introduced by her first name and the audience sees her actually undergoing therapy. As far as can be learned, it is the first time the life of an actual mental patient has been filmed for public view. She and other patients are observed full face and in a variety of situations.

He Beats Wife About 1,153 Times

CHICAGO (AP)—A woman who obtained an injunction last week to prohibit her husband from adding to her claimed total of 1,151 beatings in 12 years of marriage was back in court this week with two black eyes.

"He beat her twice more before the injunction could be served," explained the attorney for Mrs. Phyllis Valentino, 41. "That brings the total beatings he has given her in their 12 years of marriage to 1,153."

Judge Harry G. Hershenson then issued a new order—that Peter Valentino, also 41, leave the house and pay $40 a week for support of his wife.

Identification May Aid Buyers

CINCINNATI (AP) — State Liquor Director William E. Bryant says his department is nearly ready to give identification cards to liquor buyers who appear to be younger than the minimum age.

Bryant, here to confer with police and sheriff's officers, said the cards will be free and will probably cover those 21-24 years old.

He said the department's campaign to curb sales to minors already has begun, with signs in state liquor stores warning of minimum age requirements.

Carolina Bills To Tighten Segregation

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — Three segregation bills and a page boy who got fired for criticizing the state senate's segregation activities featured the legislative scene here today.

Chief among the bills is a house-passed measure which would fire from state, county or local employment any members of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The 23-year-old senate page boy, Raymond L. Morton, was discharged for an article which appeared in the Gamecock, student weekly at the University of South Carolina.

"It was an experiment to test campus reaction," Morton said, "but I didn't explain that ahead of time and so I probably got what I deserved."

Morton's article said the senate is "intent on circumventing" integration. It added: "I am ashamed to be called 'a Southerner,' " and that he was a Southerner by "the biological accident" of birth.

Two of the segregation bills went to Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. for his signature.

One would allow police officers to transfer a Negro child enrolled by court order at a white school back to a Negro school to avoid "civil commotion."

The other would create a legislative-governor's committee to investigate the effect of activities of the NAACP at State College for Negroes.

Boom Towns In Ohio A-Area Feel Severely Big Changes

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Times - Star said Monday that Waverly and Piketon—boom towns during the building of an Atomic Energy Commission plant — have felt severely the result of the gigantic project being completed 18 months ahead of time.

Robert Heidler, a reporter for the newspaper, said a visit to the towns, brought this information:

Waverly's population in 1952 was 1,650 but it swelled to 8,000 in 3½ years. Piketon was a village of 850 before the government job began, and had increased to 6,000 when it was completed.

Business men, expecting a five year boom, expanded in every way. The drugstores in the county increased from a single store to five. Waverly increased the number of furniture stores from two to five. Government-backed housing projects in the towns and surrounding area were rushed to completion, until some 1,600 were built.

Some 4,000 trailers housed thousands of workers near Piketon. A supermarket manager said business boomed to $14,000 a week, and now had dropped to $4,500. Real estate prices increased to $2,500 an acre but now have dropped to from $50 to $200.

Of the 1,200 houses built in Waverly with federal government support, approximately 400 are vacant, Heidler said. The rest have been turned back to the federal housing administration.

Approximately 215 "flat top" houses for workers in Waverly have been sold, or will be sold, for $400 each and taken away.

One large industry, county officials said, would be the salvation of Waverly. They said the land where 215 flat tops stand is ideal for something, since it has three streets, electricity, water, sewers, and soon will have gas lines.

Piketon officials, too, hope for an industry or industries to settle there.

If the industries come to the area, the Times-Star said, the officials believe the 3,000 or more idle men and women will be absorbed.

Sharp Hike In Economic Aid Hinted For India From U. S.

NEW DELHI (AP) — Informed sources said today the United States, in a move to counter the Soviet economic offensive and boost American relations with India, has decided to increase aid to India "substantially."

The sources said that the State Department probably would give India up to $75 million for economic development during the 1956-57 fiscal year. This would be about 50 per cent higher than the allocation this year.

In addition, the sources added, India next year would get technical assistance of about $10 million. This is about what she is getting this year.

With India also in a good position to get something from President Eisenhower's special regional fund for Asia, the sources said, total American aid for India could reach $100 million.

A decision to boost aid to India apparently was made during Secretary of State Dulles' weekend visit. He reportedly became convinced something had to be done to improve shaky Indian - American relations.

Meanwhile, Dulles was flying to Thailand after praising the "strong patriotic leadership" of Indonesia's leaders and extending Eisenhower's invitation for President Soekarno to visit the United States.

In Bangkok, it was announced that an experimental atomic reactor for southeast Asia will be built in Thailand as a result of an agreement signed today by Dulles and Thailand's Foreign Minister, Prince Wan Waithyakon.

The reactor was promised to southeast Asia at last year's Colombo plan conference.

The installation, which is to become a training center for South east Asian atomic power students and technicians,had been expected to be located in the Philippines or Ceylon. Both wanted it.

Earlier today in Washington,the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission reported it had authorized the sale of heavy water to six nations. Among them is India which will get 21 tons of the material at a price of $28 a pound. Heavy water is used in atomic reactors.

Lt. Gov. Brown Labels Group As 'King Makers'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, said Wednesday night that the political "king makers" were out to defeat him at the polls in the May 8 primary.

Brown said in a television address:

"There is a certain group of professional lobbyists and a small but powerful clique of vested business interests which have joined forces to set themselves up as 'king makers' of Ohio politics.

They have chosen their candidate—my opponent for the Republican nomination . . . (Atty Gen. C. William O'Neill)—and they will show no mercy for anyone who dares stand in their way."

Brown said the "king makers" backed Gov. Lausche for the past ten years,. He added that there was talk that they had selected O'Neill as Lausche's "heir apparent."

Man Would Add Democrat To Name

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Roy R. C. Sanderson, 36, of nearby Torrance, has filed a petition to change his name to Roy Democrat Sanderson.

"The two initials are cumbersome and embarrassing," Sanderson told a judge. "I have had a lifelong affiliation with the Democratic party, and I take great pride in that fact."

Furthermore, he said, the initials don't stand for anything

Under California law, it will be five weeks before the court can make Sanderson a Democrat in name, as well as in fact.

New JP Terms Said To Be Only 2 Years

COLUMBUS (AP)—Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill has ruled that justices of the peace starting terms last Jan. 1 will serve for two years instead of four.

In the opinion delivered yesterday to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, O'Neill also ruled that elections for justices can be held only in November of "the odd numbered years."

Turnpike Revenue Showing Boost Over Previous Month

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Toll revenues on the Northern Ohio Turnpike are on the increase.

Comptroller John Soller told the Ohio Turnpike Commission at its meeting yesterday that tolls for the first 12 days of March ran about 15 per cent ahead of the same period last month.

Robert S. Beightler, commission member, said the increase might be more for the rest of March.

Commission members have expressed concern over failure off turnpike revenues to come up to expectations, largely because big trucks have been avoiding the toll road.

Chairman James W. Shocknessy said chairmen of Indiana and New Jersey turnpikes were ready to attend a meeting called to discuss toll problems. He said the Pennsylvania chairman indicated he would attend the conference tentatively set for Philadelphia.

S. O. Linzell, state highway director and commission member, said a report by engineers restudying feasibility of the proposed Cincinnati-Conneaut Turnpike would be completed by May 1, on schedule.

The commission unanimously named Col. V. O. Robertson to a new job as director of administrative services. He now is executive assistant to the acting executive director, C. W. Hartford.

Beightler objected to creation of the new post, but went along with the proposal after being assured that it would not call for additional employes. Robertson will continue to receive his present salary of $10,000 a year in the new job. He said the change would give him additional authority in performing his duties.

The commission also approved creation of a central hiring board for non-supervisory personnel. Department heads now do such hiring.

Missouri Road Patrolmen Picking On Ohioans, Claim

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Robert L. Moulton, chairman of the Ohio Reciprocity Board, says Missouri highway patrolmen who arrested Ohio truck drivers were acting in retaliation against Ohio's controversial axle-mile tax.

Missouri patrolmen arrested 36 truckers, mostly from Ohio, in downtown St. Louis Monday.

The patrolmen said the drivers either lacked Missouri license plates or had overloaded vehicles.

Moulton, who also is chairman of the state utilities commission, which regulates trucking operations, pointed out Ohio still lets Missouri truckers use Ohio roads without having to buy Ohio license plates.

He said he regarded arrest of some of the Ohio truckers as a retaliatory action against Ohio's axle-mile tax. Court action brought by truckers fighting the tax was followed by cancellation of licensing reciprocity agreements between Ohio and several other states. Efforts to negotiate new agreements have not been entirely successful.

The tax is on trucks of three or more axles and ranges from one-half to 2½ cents a mile, depending on the size of the truck.

"We're not stopping anyone in Ohio for not having Ohio license plates," Moulton said. "We grant complete reciprocity on them and always have."

A highway patrolman in St. Louis said about the arrests, "Since they're picking up our drivers in Ohio, we're keeping just as sharp an eye out for them as they are for us."

Moulton said Ohio is stopping trucks subject to the axle-mile tax that do not display stickers showing they are registered for the tax. And Ohio stops trucks that are overloaded, he added. Moulton said he expected overloaded Ohio trucks to be stopped in Missouri.

Last December Moulton notified Missouri Ohio would continue to collect the axle-mile tax and asked that state not to retaliate by making Ohio truckers buy Missouri license plates.

Retailers Hope Yankees Plan To Live It Up

Federal Reserve Board Encourages Merchants With Eye On Easter

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Retailers hope the Federal Reserve Board is right in its finding that Americans plan to go on living it up this year.

Retail sales, taken as a whole, have been running behind the fast pace set in the closing months of last year. Retail inventories, taken as a whole, have been rising.

If the Easter trade doesn't come up to expectations and if the public doesn't loosen its purse strings generously, price cutting could become a significant part of the merchandising scene later on. The food chains have shown the way with some tempting bargains in recent weeks — and the public has responded appreciatively.

The real test of consumer spending is yet to come. Right now the emphasis is largely on spring apparel. Women are expected to dash into the stores between snow flurries and buy new spring outfits for themselves and their children and — if there's any money left over — maybe a tie of hat for their husbands to sport in the Easter parade on April Fool's Day.

The official arrival of spring next week — and its real arrival somewhat later — is counted upon to increase the yen for a new car, a house in the suburbs, and all manner of furnishings, durable or soft, for present homes.

The Federal Reserve Board's survey of the public's spending mood, conducted annually for it by the survey research center of the University of Michigan, indicates that about as many persons this year as last plan to indulge themselves in car, house and appliance purchases.

For the retailer, particular for those who sell their goods on time, the cheerful part of the survey is that the majority of consumers "are optimistic about their own income prospects and are very optimistic about prospects for general business conditions."

It is out of this optimism that retail sales, particularly installment plan sales, are born.

While some forms of retail sales were sliding a little this year, the public was busy paying up old debts and increasing its savings totals. January-February sales of U. S. savings bonds were rising to an 11-year record high, the t. s. treasury reports.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

I'm not an Irishman by birth. . .
I lack an Irish name;
I do not have an Irish face. . .
My brogue is not the same;
But I can trace my lineage
To Irish dames and sires;
Some of them were yokel folks
And some of them were squires.

So there's a fleck of Irish blood
A flowin, in my veins;
That's wh, I love the shamrock
And the lilt of Irish strains;
Tho' I may lack an Irish tongue
The colleens to beguile,
There's not a better Irishman
In all the Emerald Isle.

I'm brushin' off my copper hat
And gettin' down my cane;
For soon we will commemorate
St. Patrick's Day again;
It sure is grand to know that I
Can have a humble part;
I may not have an Irish name,
But I've an Irish heart.

Ohio Auto Licenses Selling Slowly

COLUMBUS (AP) — With almost half the sales period gone, only about 30 percent of the state's 3½ million license plates for 1956 have been issued, says C. Erwin Nofer, acting registrar of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

The licenses went on sale March 1 and are required on all vehicles after March 31.

Church Council Raps Sale Of Radio-TV Time To Religion

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—A commission of the National Council of Churches in the U.S.A. has condemned the practice of buying or selling radio and television time for religious broadcasts.

It also believes free time should be given to religious programs at peak evening hours.

The council is made up of Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches with a membership of 35½ million. The action of its Broadcasting and Film Commission raises for broadcasters and telecasters a matter as delicate as political time.

All four major networks—NBC, CBS, ABC and the Mutual Broadcasting System—now provide some free time to religious groups, chiefly during Sunday daytime hours. ABC and Mutual also sell time for an over-all total of 17 religious programs. CBS and NBC always have opposed selling time to religious groups and individuals. CBS remains unalterably opposed to the idea.

But now NBC is polling its member stations to learn whether they would accept a carefully supervised TV program series by evangelist Billy Graham. A spokesman said the other day that NBC appears to be in a transitional stage in its view of the whole question.

One of the most penetrating remarks made on the matter since the commission adopted its resolution is that of George Crothers, CBS director of education and religious broadcasts, who said:

"Fundamentally it's a matter of taste. When you mix religion with commercialism—with selling cars, refrigerators, soap and cigarettes, it gets hard to draw the line on what is good taste and what is bad taste."

This aptly expresses the viewpoint of the National Council's commission. For there are many million Americans to whom religious showmanship mixed with commercialism is downright offensive.

Yet by the standards of mass audience appeal these millions seem to be in a minority. A quiet thoughtful talk about religious faith still commands a good audience in radio and television. But it cannot attract a large evening audience against the competition of big entertainment programs, all networks agree.

Long Conference Held By Lawyers In Postal Hearing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Prosecution and defense conferred for two hours Wednesday in the first day of the trial of two Fairfield County Republicans accused of trying to get contributions from a candidate for a postmastership.

Navy Shows Off Its Terrier Antiaircraft Guided Missile

ABOARD THE U. S. S. NORTHAMPTON IN THE CARIBBEAN SEA, (AP)—The Navy is the first of the three sometimes rival services to show the public how its antiaircraft guided missile, the Terrier, can track and kill a high-flying combat plane.

Reporters, along with visiting admirals, watched Tuesday as two missiles spiraled up a radar beam from the Navy's first robot weapon ship, the Boston.

The drone target plane—and F6F Hellcat traveling at 350 miles per hour—was out of sight at 6 miles distance and 15,000 feet altitude But the two Terriers turned and weaved in their supersonic-speed ascent, then converged in the last few split seconds as they neared the target plane. Spectators saw a flash in the sky, a blooming cloud of smoke, another flash as the second missile detonated And the tattered wreckage of the Hellcat drifted down, like burning leaf fragments, to the surface of the sea.

Officials said the World War II Hellcat was an easy target for the 1,500-mile-per-hour Terrior, adding that it was capable of coping with the best jet bomber.

The Navy's dramatic demonstration, however, was preceded by a bobble A few minutes before the successful shoot, a faulty setup in the firing circuit brought about a misfire and a nervous few minutes for spectators. Instead of blasting off the pair of missiles stood stolidly on their launchers while a flare burned briefly and brilliantly at the base of one of the weapons.

Later officials said there was at no time any danger.

Apparently restrained by top Department of Defense levels, the Army has been unable to show off in actual firing its Nike missile. The same situation appears to prevail in the case of the Air Force, which has among its air-to-air missiles the Falcon.

Boom Towns In Ohio A-Area Feel Severely Big Changes

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Times - Star said Monday that Waverly and Piketon—boom towns during the building of an Atomic Energy Commission plant — have felt severely the result of the gigantic project being completed 18 months ahead of time.

Robert Heidler, a reporter for the newspaper, said a visit to the towns, brought this information:

Waverly's population in 1952 was 1,650 but it swelled to 8,000 in 3½ years. Piketon was a village of 850 before the government job began, and had increased to 6,000 when it was completed.

Business men, expecting a five year boom, expanded in every way. The drugstores in the county increased from a single store to five. Waverly increased the number of furniture stores from two to five. Government-backed housing projects in the towns and surrounding area were rushed to completion, until some 1,600 were built.

Some 4,000 trailers housed thousands of workers near Piketon. A supermarket manager said business boomed to $14,000 a week, and now had dropped to $4,500. Real estate prices increased to $2,500 an acre but now have dropped to from $50 to $200.

Of the 1,200 houses built in Waverly with federal government support, approximately 400 are vacant, Heidler said. The rest have been turned back to the federal housing administration.

Approximately 215 "flat top" houses for workers in Waverly have been sold, or will be sold, for $400 each and taken away.

One large industry, county officials said, would be the salvation of Waverly. They said the land where 215 flat tops stand is ideal for something, since it has three streets, electricity, water, sewers, and soon will have gas lines.

Piketon officials, too, hope for an industry or industries to settle there.

If the industries come to the area, the Times-Star said, the officials believe the 3,000 or more idle men and women will be absorbed.

Ohio Education Panel Mum On Racial Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Board of Education declared at its meeting here Tuesday that it will "take action in accordance with law" against districts where the courts rule unlawful segregation exists

The board, however, failed to adopt a motion by Cleveland member Charles P. Lucas to establish a committee to investigate "allegations of segregation."

The board agreed with Frank Siedel of Rocky River, who said in his resolution to follow the courts in the matter of segregation, that the state board "has neither the means nor the right to take action on this question without final determination by the courts."

Loren E. Souers Jr., of Canton, noted that there is only one case involving segregation in the state now before the courts. He was referring to the Hillsboro case.

Charlton Myers of Marion said, "it appears to me that this is a local matter rather than a state matter."

Earlier the board decided to continue present practice in the granting of emergency teacher certificates and authorized a study of whether standards must be lowered to meet the critical teacher shortage.

Harold Bowers, state supervisor of teacher training, told the board it would be ten years before the state could expect to have a fully trained teacher in every public school classroom.

Bowers said the rate of issuing emergency certificates might have to be stepped up to help meet the teacher shortage. About 200 certificates are now being issued annually.

The board approved the transfer of a farm from the Carroll Local District in Fairfield County to the Franklin County District.

Cleveland Chiefs Debate Crime Rate

CLEVELAND (AP) — Councilman Harry T. Marshall says Cleveland's streets are full of hoodlums.

But Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze defended the city and disputed Marshall's claim that Cleveland "has surrendered to the hoodlums."

"Our streets are unsafe," Marshall said. "The hoodlums roam in gangs and rob women and attack children. It's to the everlasting shame of this community. Everybody walks the streets at night at his own peril."

Celebrezze retorted the councilman should not create the impression "law and order have gone to the dogs." He said the city has one of the best records in the nation in lowering the crime rate.

BIS Aide Named Parole Consultant

NEW YORK (AP)—Cleo B. Dolan, 37, assistant superintendent of the Boys' Industrial School in Lancaster, Ohio has been appointed National Probation and Parole Assn consultant for Ohio and Indiana

Dolan will assume his new post April 1 and will establish his office in Columbus.

The appointment was announced by Will C. Turnbladh, executive director of the National Probation and Parole Association NPAA.

He said that recently officials had invited the NPAA into Ohio and Indiana "to develop greater citizen leadership in dealing with the problems of crime, juvenile delinquency and family breakup."

THE MOST SURPRISED mother in Chicago is 21-year-old Mrs. Shirley Horvath, holding her first-born, husky George Edward, who weighed in at nine pounds, 14¾ ounces. Declaring the stork's arrival was absolutely unexpected, Mrs. Horvath declared, "I never had an ache or a pain or any other indication other than gaining weight." Her husband, Harold, 31, was surprised, too — he fainted. (International Soundphoto)

Ike Feels U. S. Interests In Jeopardy In Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said yesterday that U. S. interests in the Middle East are gravely jeopardized.

He also disclosed that, in a secret exchange of letters with Premier Bulganin last fall, he had raised the question of Soviet penetration of the area.

With respect to the violent British-Greek dispute over Cyprus, Eisenhower told his news conference the United States is ready to do anything reasonable and helpful to help in a solution. But he made it clear the solution will have to come from Britain and Greece essentially.

Discussing Israeli-Arab hostility in Palestine, Eisenhower said the United States never said flatly it would not supply arms to Israel.

United States policy to date, he said, has been to avoid an arms race in the area in the belief that the best prospect for peace and for Israeli security lies in the United Nations.

The question of the Eisenhower-Bulganin correspondence and its connection with the Middle East, came after the President said he wanted to make a correction in something he had said last week.

He recalled that he had said he had raised the question of Russia's Middle East activities—meaning the sale of arms to Egypt—with Bulganin and Communist boss Khrushchev at the Geneva conference in July.

He had said also last week that the Russian response had been that the arms sales were "purely commercial."

Eisenhower's version was in conflict with testimony Secretary of State Dulles gave the Senate Foreign Relations Committee several weeks ago. Dulles said the arms matter was not raised by the United States at Geneva.

Today the President said he had rechecked his recollection and found that the Soviet view had been expressed to him about the first of October in an exchange of letters with Bulganin.

Eisenhower opened his news conference with an informal statement on Cyprus obviously designed to back the State Department's assertion Tuesday night that this country is "not taking sides."

Eisenhower described the Greeks and the British as two of America's very best friends, said the United States is friendly to both and that both are vitally necessary to success of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Meanwhile the State Department prodded both Greeks and Britons to put aside violence and force in their bitter Cyprus dispute and return to the negotiating table.

'Actuality Drama' On TV To Stress Mental Illness

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 10 million americans now suffer from some form of mental disorder . . . In the past 10 years the population has increased 20 per cent while the number of mental hospital patients has increased by 44 per cent . . . Still hospital facilities are nowhere near adequate and large numbers of people are ignorant about mental disease, its nature and its therapy . . .

This is part of the background which has inspired a striking 90-minute filmed "actuality drama" which comes to the home screen via CBS-TV next Sunday afternoon. The work of the CBS Public Affairs Department and endorsed by the American Psychiatric Assn., it is entitled "Out of Darkness."

Specific credit for the program goes to a quiet, intense writer-producer, Albert Wasserman, 35, who spent 3½ months with a camera crew at the Metropolitan State Hospital, Norwalk, Calif., filming life within a mental hospital

"The idea behind 'Out of Darkness,' " says Wasserman, "is that mental patients are not a strange alien species. Patients are essentially people. There is always hope for their recovery."

Orson Welles serves as narrator of the program. Dr. William Menninger, a world-renowned psychiatrist, discusses some of the medical aspects of mental health.

But what gives "Out of Darkness" both focus and dramatic impact is its study of a specific woman patient, suffering from catatonic schizophrenia. Her symptoms are those of an extremely rigid, withdrawn personality.

The TV audience will see her from the time of her entrance to the hospital until she is well on the road to social recovery. Hers is not an acted role. She is introduced by her first name and the audience sees her actually undergoing therapy. As far as can be learned, it is the first time the life of an actual mental patient has been filmed for public view. She and other patients are observed full face and in a variety of situations.

He Beats Wife About 1,153 Times

CHICAGO (AP)—A woman who obtained an injunction last week to prohibit her husband from adding to her claimed total of 1,151 beatings in 12 years of marriage was back in court this week with two black eyes.

"He beat her twice more before the injunction could be served," explained the attorney for Mrs. Phyllis Valentino, 41. "That brings the total beatings he has given her in their 12 years of marriage to 1,153."

Judge Harry G. Hershenson then issued a new order—that Peter Valentino, also 41, leave the house and pay $40 a week for support of his wife.

Identification May Aid Buyers

CINCINNATI (AP) — State Liquor Director William E. Bryant says his department is nearly ready to give identification cards to liquor buyers who appear to be younger than the minimum age.

Bryant, here to confer with police and sheriff's officers, said the cards will be free and will probably cover those 21-24 years old.

He said the department's campaign to curb sales to minors already has begun, with signs in state liquor stores warning of minimum age requirements.

Carolina Bills To Tighten Segregation

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — Three segregation bills and a page boy who got fired for criticizing the state senate's segregation activities featured the legislative scene here today.

Chief among the bills is a house-passed measure which would fire from state, county or local employment any members of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The 23-year-old senate page boy, Raymond L. Morton, was discharged for an article which appeared in the Gamecock, student weekly at the University of South Carolina.

"It was an experiment to test campus reaction," Morton said, "but I didn't explain that ahead of time and so I probably got what I deserved."

Morton's article said the senate is "intent on circumventing" integration. It added: "I am ashamed to be called 'a Southerner,' " and that he was a Southerner by "the biological accident" of birth.

Two of the segregation bills went to Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. for his signature.

One would allow police officers to transfer a Negro child enrolled by court order at a white school back to a Negro school to avoid "civil commotion."

The other would create a legislative-governor's committee to investigate the effect of activities of the NAACP at State College for Negroes.

High School Set Going Elegant

Oriental Influences In Teen-Age Styles

Elegance prevails in spring fashfabrics, Oriental influences, empire silhouettes and dressmaker details all contributing their share.

It's a lady - like but youthful elegance, appropriate to the age and activities of the high-schooler.

For example, trend - setting styles such as the empire line undergo special treatment as they enter the teen world. The high - rise waistline combines with the low torso to produce a corselet silhouette.

For this teen look, both high and low lines are indicated with self or contrast trim.

Sheaths are softened with ribbons, bows and back streamers. Cardigan styling for the coats that cover the sheaths provides youthful sophistication, as do the side - slit caftan coats.

Fashion - conscious teens like the costume in all of its varieties — sheath or princess dress with jacket, cape, bolero or coat. They like, too, the well - tailored suit, newly important for the high school crowd.

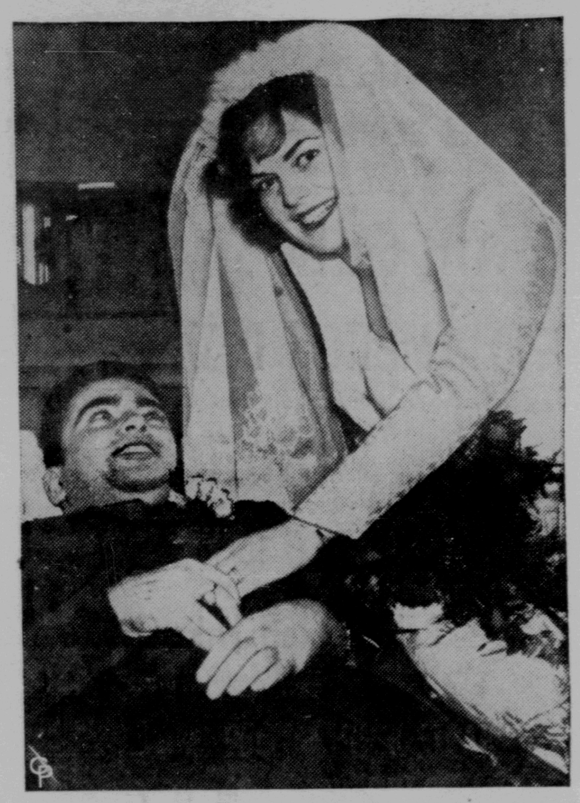
• • •

IN THIS AGE group, suit jackets are most often semi - fitted classics, teamed with gently gored or pleated skirts. Another favorite here is the boxy jacket and easy-slim skirt.

The Oriental theme appears not only in the caftan coat, but also in dresses with cummerbunds like obi sashes and in other details such as inverted pleats around the hemline of full skirts.

The fabrics used are distinguished for their look of luxury, and that applies not only to the silks, linens and wools but to the cottons, nylons and rayons as well.

Often, teen fashions display the charms of not one but two fabrics, coordinating cottons and rayons, silks and wools, cotton satin and dotted Swiss. Colors coordinate too, as checks or pastel plaids pair with solids.



AFTER A WEDDING CEREMONY that caused more than 1,000 women to jam Swindon Baptist Church, Wiltshire, England, U. S. Airman Michael Storms, 20, of San Diego, Calif., is shown with his bride, Sylvia Vincent, 20, of South Ruislip, Middlesex. Widespread attention was attracted because the American flier, paralyzed through polio, had to be carried from the Burderop Park Hospital and borne to the church altar on a stretcher by four of his buddies. Michael will soon fly back home and will be followed later by his bride.

Actress Loses Child Custody

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Barbara Payton has given up custody of her son, John Lee, 9.

Capt. John Payton, 33, the actress' first husband and father of the boy, was granted custody in court with the agreement of Miss Payton.

Payton had moved for custody, charging his former wife had failed to provide the boy with an adequate home, and had exposed him to "profane language, immoral conduct, notoriety, unwholesome activities and no moral education." Payton has remarried.

Construction of a $30,000,000 petroleum refinery plant is now underway at Mamonal, on Cartagena Bay, Colombia.

Meat Specials Being Offered

St. Patrick's Day Features Corned Beef

(By The Associated Press)

Food stores this week again offer a big variety of meats at special prices. A widely featured item is that St. Patrick's Day favorite—corned beef.

A number of big chains are also running pork specials. One retailer commented that his weekend pork prices were the lowest "in years and years."

Frying chickens and veal are popular specials in many areas. In scattered places beef prices are down but generally the market for beef has been steady recently.

Lamb, a popular spring and easter season item, is a few cents higher on the wholesale market stores are offering it at lower prices.

On vetegable counters onion and potatoes remain the outstanding buys. Good buys are cabbage, carrots, beans, broccoli iceberg lettuce, pascal celery, sweet potatoes, turnips, endive and escarole.

OSU Suggested For A-Reactor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio State University has been suggested as a site for a $3 million atomic food processing reactor.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) said yesterday he had urged the Army to consider the university as a location for the Quartermaster Corps' proposed plan to experiment with preserving large quantities of food by gamma radiation.

The first complete course in poultry husbandry was offered by the University of Rhode Island in 1898.

Jeff Davis Highway Marker (And Highway Too) Missing

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The Pacific end marker of the Jefferson Davis Highway turned up missing today.

Then, the highway itself couldn't be found.

Allen Perry, city superintendent of parks, was notified by the Daughters of the Confederacy that a bronze plaque was missing from its granite base in the city plaza. It was placed there May 12, 1926, to mark the "first Pacific terminal of the Jefferson Davis Highway."

And how about the highway itself?

"Don't ask me," said Perry.

The police thought vandals may have taken the plaque but could hardly have carried off a highway.

The California State Highway Division searched records here but failed to find anything bearing on Jefferson Davis Highway.

At the San Diego Historical Society, the placing of the plaque was recalled.

The society also recalled that there had been some controversy over highway routes and names and that another monument had been placed in the plaza the same year.

It is still there and inscriptions chiseled into the granite say it was "dedicated by our beloved President, Calvin Coolidge, Nov. 17, 1926," as a "milestone of the Old Spanish Trail from St. Augustine, Fla., to San Diego, Calif."

There is a plaque on the back of the monument from which the Jefferson Davis marker is missing which reads: "May 12, 1926, Dixie Overland Highway Association—Savannah, Ga., to San Diego, Calif."

The plaza information booth, maintained to help visitors, knew nothing about the Jefferson Davis, Dixie or Spanish Trail highways. It advised taking U.S. Highway 80 to Texas and East. "That'll get you there," the man said.

Cop's Alarm Clock Works Too Well

NEWARK (AP)—The time is 1:10 a. m.

Inside the car, say the officers, is Patrolman Norris — sleep. Patrolman Norris is due to call headquarters at 1:30 a.m.

The captain and the sergeant await developments.

Shortly before 1:30 a. m., an alarm clock sounds on the seat beside Norris.

Awakened, Norris is sent home to await disciplinary action.

Police Chief Leonard L. Hall has not decided what to do about Norris.

Retailers Hope Yankees Plan To Live It Up

Federal Reserve Board Encourages Merchants With Eye On Easter

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Retailers hope the Federal Reserve Board is right in its finding that Americans plan to go on living it up this year.

Retail sales, taken as a whole, have been running behind the fast pace set in the closing months of last year. Retail inventories, taken as a whole, have been rising.

If the Easter trade doesn't come up to expectations and if the public doesn't loosen its purse strings generously, price cutting could become a significant part of the merchandising scene later on. The food chains have shown the way with some tempting bargains in recent weeks — and the public has responded appreciatively.

The real test of consumer spending is yet to come. Right now the emphasis is largely on spring apparel. Women are expected to dash into the stores between snow flurries and buy new spring outfits for themselves and their children and — if there's any money left over — maybe a tie of hat for their husbands to sport in the Easter parade on April Fool's Day.

The official arrival of spring next week — and its real arrival somewhat later — is counted upon to increase the yen for a new car, a house in the suburbs, and all manner of furnishings, durable or soft, for present homes.

The Federal Reserve Board's survey of the public's spending mood, conducted annually for it by the survey research center of the University of Michigan, indicates that about as many persons this year as last plan to indulge themselves in car, house and appliance purchases.

For the retailer, particular for those who sell their goods on time, the cheerful part of the survey is that the majority of consumers "are optimistic about their own income prospects and are very optimistic about prospects for general business conditions."

It is out of this optimism that retail sales, particularly installment plan sales, are born.

While some forms of retail sales were sliding a little this year, the public was busy paying up old debts and increasing its savings totals. January-February sales of U. S. savings bonds were rising to an 11-year record high, the t. s. treasury reports.

Poet's Corner

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

I'm not an Irishman by birth. . .
I lack an Irish name;
I do not have an Irish face. . .
My brogue is not the same;
But I can trace my lineage
To Irish dames and sires;
Some of them were yokel folks
And some of them were squires.

So there's a fleck of Irish blood
A flowin, in my veins;
That's wh, I love the shamrock
And the lilt of Irish strains;
Tho' I may lack an Irish tongue
The colleens to beguile,
There's not a better Irishman
In all the Emerald Isle.

I'm brushin' off my topper hat
And gettin' down my cane;
For soon we will commemorate
St. Patrick's Day again;
It sure is grand to know that I
Can have a humble part;
I may not have an Irish name,
But I've an Irish heart.

House Group OKs Military Building

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee has approved a bill authorizing $2,156,730,000 for Army, Navy and Air Force construction.

The money, if appropriated in later legislation, will be available in the year beginning July 1.

Under the bill the Army is authorized to spend $304,562,000; the Navy, $401,194,000, and the Air Force $1,137,280,000.

Ohio Auto Licenses Selling Slowly

COLUMBUS (AP) — With almost half the sales period gone, only about 30 percent of the state's 3½ million license plates for 1956 have been issued, says C. Erwin Nofer, acting registrar of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

The licenses went on sale March 1 and are required on all vehicles after March 31.

Church Council Raps Sale Of Radio-TV Time To Religion

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—A commission of the National Council of Churches in the U.S.A. has condemned the practice of buying or selling radio and television time for religious broadcasts.

It also believes free time should be given to religious programs at peak evening hours.

The council is made up of Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches with a membership of 35½ million. The action of its Broadcasting and Film Commission raises for broadcasters and telecasters a matter as delicate as political time.

All four major networks—NBC, CBS, ABC and the Mutual Broadcasting System—now provide some free time to religious groups, chiefly during Sunday daytime hours. ABC and Mutual also sell time for an over-all total of 17 religious programs. CBS and NBC always have opposed selling time to religious groups and individuals. CBS remains unalterably opposed to the idea.

But now NBC is polling its member stations to learn whether they would accept a carefully supervised TV program series by evangelist Billy Graham. A spokesman said the other day that NBC appears to be in a transitional stage in its view of the whole question.

One of the most penetrating remarks made on the matter since the commission adopted its resolution is that of George Crothers, CBS director of education and religious broadcasts, who said:

"Fundamentally it's a matter of taste. When you mix religion with commercialism—with selling cars, refrigerators, soap and cigarettes, it gets hard to draw the line on what is good taste and what is bad taste."

This aptly expresses the viewpoint of the National Council's commission. For there are many million Americans to whom religious showmanship mixed with commercialism is downright offensive.

Yet by the standards of mass audience appeal these millions seem to be in a minority. A quiet, thoughtful talk about religious faith still commands a good audience in radio and television. But it cannot attract a large evening audience against the competition of big entertainment programs, all networks agree.

Long Conference Held By Lawyers In Postal Hearing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Prosecution and defense conferred for two hours Wednesday in the first day of the trial of two Fairfield County Republicans accused of trying to get contributions from a candidate for a postmastership.

Purpose of the conference was not disclosed.

The trial of Charles E. Meyers, of Baltimore, Ohio and William Carson Dagger of Lancaster resumed today before a jury of 11 men and one woman.

The two men have been indicted on five counts. Two counts each and one joint count charge them with offering Harry Raymond Johnson their support for the Baltimore postmastership in return for political contributions.

Johnson was acting postmaster at Baltimore until last July 15.

Navy Shows Off Its Terrier Antiaircraft Guided Missile

ABOARD THE U. S. S. NORTHAMPTON IN THE CARIBBEAN SEA, (AP)—The Navy is the first of the three sometimes rival services to show the public how its antiaircraft guided missile, the Terrier, can track and kill a high-flying combat plane.

Reporters, along with visiting admirals, watched Tuesday as two missiles spiraled up a radar beam from the Navy's first robot weapon ship, the Boston.

The drone target plane—and F6F Hellcat traveling at 350 miles per hour—was out of sight at 6 miles distance and 15,000 feet altitude But the two Terriers turned and weaved in their supersonic-speed ascent, then converged in the last few split seconds as they neared the target plane. Spectators saw a flash in the sky a blooming cloud of smoke, another flash as the second missile detonated And the tattered wreckage of the Hellcat drifted down, like burning leaf fragments, to the surface of the sea.

Officials said the World War II Hellcat was an easy target for the 1,500-mile-per-hour Terrior, adding that it was capable of coping with the best jet bomber.

The Navy's dramatic demonstration, however, was preceded by a bobble A few minutes before the successful shoot, a faulty setup in the firing circuit brought about a misfire and a nervous few minutes for spectators. Instead of blasting off the pair of missiles stood stolidly on their launchers while a flare burned briefly and brilliantly at the base of one of the weapons.

Later officials said there was at no time any danger.

Apparently restrained by top Department of Defense levels, the Army has been unable to show off in actual firing its Nike missile. The same situation appears to prevail in the case of the Air Force, which has among its air-to-air missiles the Falcon.

Fungi and insects take their toll in this country — $7 billion a year, says the Department of Agriculture.

Algeria has an area of 852,600 miles of which about 770,000 miles are in the Saharan zone.

High School Set Going Elegant

Oriental Influences In Teen-Age Styles

Elegance prevails in spring fashfabrics, Oriental influences, empire silhouettes and dressmaker details all contributing their share.

It's a lady - like but youthful elegance, appropriate to the age and activities of the high-schooler.

For example, trend - setting styles such as the empire line undergo special treatment as they enter the teen world. The high - rise waistline combines with the low torso to produce a corselet silhouette.

For this teen look, both high and low lines are indicated with self or contrast trim.

Sheaths are softened with ribbons, bows and back streamers. Cardigan styling for the coats that cover the sheaths provides youthful sophistication, as do the side - slit caftan coats.

Fashion - conscious teens like the costume in all of its varieties — sheath or princess dress with jacket, cape, bolero or coat. They like, too, the well - tailored suit, newly important for the high school crowd.

• • •

IN THIS AGE group, suit jackets are most often semi - fitted classics, teamed with gently gored or pleated skirts. Another favorite here is the boxy jacket and easy-slim skirt.

The Oriental theme appears not only in the caftan coat, but also in dresses with cummerbunds like obi sashes and in other details such as inverted pleats around the hemline of full skirts.

The fabrics used are distinguished for their look of luxury, and that applies not only to the silks, linens and wools but to the cottons, nylons and rayons as well.

Often, teen fashions display the charms of not one but two fabrics, coordinating cottons and rayons, silks and wools, cotton satin and dotted Swiss. Colors coordinate too, as checks or pastel plaids pair with solids.

Actress Loses Child Custody

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Barbara Payton has given up custody of her son, John Lee, 9.

Capt. John Payton, 33, the actress' first husband and father of the boy, was granted custody in court with the agreement of Miss Payton.

Payton had moved for custody, charging his former wife had failed to provide the boy with an adequate home, and had exposed him to "profane language, immoral conduct, notoriety, unwholesome activities and no moral education." Payton has remarried.

Construction of a $30,000,000 petroleum refinery plant is now underway at Mamonal, on Cartagena Bay, Colombia.

RIGHT ON THE BUTTON

Fashion authorities say that on the three button jacket, the middle button only is the correct one to fasten, while the top one is correct on the two button jacket.

Meat Specials Being Offered

St. Patrick's Day Features Corned Beef

(By The Associated Press)

Food stores this week again offer a big variety of meats at special prices. A widely featured item is that St. Patrick's Day favorite—corned beef.

A number of big chains are also running pork specials. One retailer commented that his weekend pork prices were the lowest "in years and years."

Frying chickens and veal are popular specials in many areas. In scattered places beef prices are down but generally the market for beef has been steady recently.

Lamb, a popular spring and easter season item, is a few cents higher on the wholesale market stores are offering it at lower prices.

On vetegable counters onion and potatoes remain the outstanding buys. Good buys are cabbage, carrots, beans, broccoli iceberg lettuce, pascal celery, sweet potatoes, turnips, endive and escarole.

OSU Suggested For A-Reactor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio State University has been suggested as a site for a $3 million atomic food processing reactor.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) said yesterday he had urged the Army to consider the university as a location for the Quartermaster Corps' proposed plan to experiment with preserving large quantities of food by gamma radiation.

The first complete course in poultry husbandry was offered by the University of Rhode Island in 1898.

Jeff Davis Highway Marker (And Highway Too) Missing

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The Pacific end marker of the Jefferson Davis Highway turned up missing today.

Then, the highway itself couldn't be found.

Allen Perry, city superintendent of parks, was notified by the Daughters of the Confederacy that a bronze plaque was missing from its granite base in the city plaza It was placed there May 12, 1926, to mark the "first Pacific terminal of the Jefferson Davis Highway."

And how about the highway itself?

"Don't ask me," said Perry.

The police thought vandals may have taken the plaque but could hardly have carried off a highway.

The California State Highway Division searched records here but failed to find anything bearing on Jefferson Davis Highway.

At the San Diego Historical Society, the placing of the plaque was recalled.

The society also recalled that there had been some controversy over highway routes and names and that another monument had been placed in the plaza the same year.

It is still there and inscriptions chiseled into the granite say it was "dedicated by our beloved President, Calvin Coolidge, Nov. 17, 1926," as a "milestone of the Old Spanish Trail from St. Augustine, Fla., to San Diego, Calif."

There is a plaque on the back of the monument from which the Jefferson Davis marker is missing which reads: "May 12, 1926, Dixie Overland Highway Association—Savannah, Ga., to San Diego, Calif."

The plaza information booth, maintained to help visitors, knew nothing about the Jefferson Davis, Dixie or Spanish Trail highways. It advised taking U.S. Highway 80 to Texas and East. "That'll get you there," the man said.

Cop's Alarm Clock Works Too Well

NEWARK (AP)—The time is 1:10 a. m.

A Newark police captain and a sergeant stop beside a car parked on a street where rookie policeman Donald Norris is supposed to be walking his beat.

Inside the car, say the officers, is Patrolman Norris — sleep. Patrolman Norris is due to call headquarters at 1:30 a.m.

The captain and the sergeant await developments.

Shortly before 1:30 a. m., an alarm clock sounds on the seat beside Norris.

Awakened, Norris is sent home to await disciplinary action.

Police Chief Leonard L. Hall has not decided what to do about Norris.

TO ACCENT SHEATHS

Pins assume importance in spring jewelry, as glittering accents for smooth sheaths. They may be worn at the shoulder, hip or waistline.

DOUBLE FEATURE

An innovation especially popular for lounge wear and informal home entertaining is the shirt-jacket, which combines the best features of both garments.

U. S. Consumer Must Be Tired Of Old Saying

He Is 'Calling Tune' But Try To Spot Exact Person Talked About

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The consumer must be getting a little tired of being told he is calling the tune.

Three months ago all the amateurs were assuring the consumer of that. And now the professional analyzers of the economy, in government and finance, are repeating the same thing:

The consumer by his spending last year brought about prosperity. The consumer's income rose last year. He spent more. And at the same time he saved more. Right now he is calling the tune — he is spending as he wishes for what he wants, and his slightest whim is charting the course of business.

Now all of this may be true. The trouble comes when you try to find the particular consumer all the pundits are talking about.

More individuals than not either spent more last year or saved more last year — one or the other, but not both. And the chances are a lot of them just rocked along as usual.

And it must be a surprise to them to learn that they have a great deal of choice right now in how they spend their money. Having bought all those things last year that their families just had to have if they were to hold up their heads in the community, many individuals are now so busy meeting the payments, getting up the mortgage money and paying the grocer that they haven't much time left in which to think up any particular tune to call.

Some eight million persons bought new cars with at least two colors on the outside and two or three still different hues on the inside. But many more millions didn't.

Thousands of persons, it's true, traipsed over to Europe and helped enrich the gold and dollar reserves of those countires — but many more thousands didn't Thousands are now basking in the sunny South. Millions are just busy as usual keeping body and soul together up North.

Out in the farm areas there's much talk about a drop in income. This is doubtless true, but here too, it's sometimes hard to put your finger on the particular farmer they're talking about. Some of them still look fairly prosperous. And lots of them were never rolling in all the wealth that city folk suspected.

It's probably true, that no matter who calls the tune, a lot of money will be spent in the country this year — and by consumers. For one thing, prices on a number of things are inching higher—meaning a new pinch on the old paycheck.

Your School Report Card

By W. A. SMITH
(City School Superintendent)

Inspired by a story in "My Weekly Reader," the children in Miss Teeters' first grade at Sunnyside School recently made life size portraits of themselves.

The children colored the pictures with their crayons making them as much like themselves as possible. Eyes and hair were studied in the mirror. Stripes, plaids and figures, collars, buttons, and bows, cowboy boots and saddle shoes, crew cuts, pigtails, and painted fingernails were carefully reproduced.

Then they cut out the pictures and fastened them on the walls in the corridor. They wrote their names and mounted them above the pictures. Older pupils and teachers have enjoyed seeing and identifying the life - sized paper dolls.

It is hard to anticipate some of the incidents which happen in first grades. While adjustments were being made on the movie projector, Mrs. Johnson was leading the children in singing.

When she asked them to choose a song, she was surprised to have them suggest "Old Smoky." "Do you know the words to that?" she asked.

The children assured her that they did, so she started the song for them. Then came a real surprise. They all sang lustily:

"On the top of Old Smoky
All covered with snow,
I saw Davy Crockett
Kiss Marilyn Monroe."

Ohio Dairy Loses Appeal In Price Case

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An Ohio dairyman, fined $2,000 for contempt of court in connection with a milk price case, Tuesday lost an appeal of his conviction to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

The state supreme court upheld a lower court decision fining Temple McAllister, owner of the McAllister Dairy Farms, Inc., at Warren, Ohio for violating an injunction of the Crawford County (Pa.) Court against selling milk below minimum prices established by the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission.

He was fined by the Dauphin County Court.

The state claimed that McAllister, in effect, was violating the state minimum when he charged a five cent deposit on gallon and half-gallon jugs of milk sold at his store near Meadville and then urged customers to redeem the empty jugs at a nearby service station for 25 cents on a gallon and 20 cents on a half gallon jug.

The service station proprietor would then return the empty jugs to McAllister.

Ohio Farm Bureau Leader Suggests Nixon Step Aside

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Ohio Farm Bureau official suggests Vice President Nixon be replaced on the Republican ticket this fall.

D. R. Stanfield, the organization's executive secretary, said he supports President Eisenhower for reelection but believes Nixon "doesn't have the stature" to succeed him, if necessary.

"I can't see why the politicians want Nixon," Stanfield went on. "Another man would strengthen the ticket."

Stanfield was among 50 Ohio farmers who arranged talks today with Sens. Bricker and Bender Ohio Republicans, to find out how farmers can reduce social security payments.

The farmers, spokesmen for the Ohio Farm Bureau, were here on their annual three-day visit to discuss legislation.

With respect to social security taxes, the bureau wants to make farmer coverage optional. It also believes farm operators should be exempted from paying social security for temporary employes

BRICKER himself has introduced legislation to exempt self-employed farmers from paying social security on their employes' wages and to reduce the tax on the farmers' own income.

"The American farmer, unlike the industrial employer or self employed businessman, cannot hope to pass on to consumers the cost of social security tax payments," said Bricker.

"To remove this inequity, we must give the farmer, for social security purposes, an equality with employes in industry and business."

The Ohio farm delegates, led by their president, H. D. Heckathorn of Forest, also plan to see their Congressmen today. This is what they expect to tell them:

1. Support the soil fertility bank for agriculture, a program of taking millions of acres of crops out of production to reduce surpluses. The Ohio farmers said this is the best method to bring about production adjustments.

2. Go slow on federal aid to education. Grant it only where school districts have "severe financial burdens as a result of federal projects."

3. Expand rural postal service to all farmers on passable roads.

4. Make it easier for foreign countries to buy American products by (a) eliminating a requirement that 50 per cent of agricultural exports be shipped on U S vessels, and (b) simplifying customs procedure.

Beautification Of Turnpike Being Planned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike commission will try to make the 241 mile toll road across Northern Ohio the world's most beautiful turnpike.

R. J. Lehman, chief engineer of the Ohio Turnpike Commission, said Tuesday the commission had hired a landscape engineer to beautify the turnpike.

In a report to the commission at its 105th meeting, Lehman said that Wesley L. Hottenstein of Harrisburg, Pa., landscape engineer, also would have charge of erosion control.

"We hope to have the most beautiful turnpike, conditions permitting," Lehman said.

Unsightly views and billboards will be screened out by trees, Lehman said. Tree and shrubbery plantings will be made to improve traffic conditions as well as to beautify the new throughway, the chief engineer added.

In other action, the superintendent of the Ohio Highway Patrol denied reports that patrolmen assigned to the Ohio Turnpike use time data stamped on toll tickets to determine motorists' speed.

Col. George Mingle said there is no basis to the reports. He said he decided to make the statement after a number of inquiries were received by the patrol concerning th matter.

"The only approved method for patrolmen to use in determining speed of motorists on the turnpike is by 'pacing' in a marked patrol car," Col. Mingle said.

U. S. Consumer Must Be Tired Of Old Saying

He Is 'Calling Tune' But Try To Spot Exact Person Talked About

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The consumer must be getting a little tired of being told he is calling the tune.

Three months ago all the amateurs were assuring the consumer of that. And now the professional analyzers of the economy, in government and finance, are repeating the same thing:

The consumer by his spending last year brought about prosperity. The consumer's income rose last year. He spent more. And at the same time he saved more. Right now he is calling the tune — he is spending as he wishes for what he wants, and his slightest whim is charting the course of business.

Now all of this may be true. The trouble comes when you try to find the particular consumer all the pundits are talking about.

More individuals than not either spent more last year or saved more last year — one or the other, but not both. And the chances are a lot of them just rocked along as usual.

And it must be a surprise to them to learn that they have a great deal of choice right now in how they spend their money. Having bought all those things last year that their families just had to have if they were to hold up their heads in the community, many individuals are now so busy meeting the payments, getting up the mortgage money and paying the grocer that they haven't much time left in which to think up any particular tune to call.

Some eight million persons bought new cars with at least two colors on the outside and two or three still different hues on the inside. But many more millions didn't.

Thousands of persons, it's true, traipsed over to Europe and helped enrich the gold and dollar reserves of those countires — but many more thousands didn't Thousands are now basking in the sunny South. Millions are just busy as usual keeping body and soul together up North.

Out in the farm areas there's much talk about a drop in income. This is doubtless true, but here too, it's sometimes hard to put your finger on the particular farmer they're talking about. Some of them still look fairly prosperous. And lots of them were never rolling in all the wealth that city folk suspected.

It's probably true, that no matter who calls the tune, a lot of money will be spent in the country this year — and by consumers. For one thing, prices on a number of things are inching higher—meaning a new pinch on the old paycheck.

Your School Report Card

By W. A. SMITH
(City School Superintendent)

Inspired by a story in "My Weekly Reader," the children in Miss Teeters' first grade at Sunnyside School recently made life size protraits of themselves.

The children colored the pictures with their crayons making them as much like themselves as possible. Eyes and hair were studied in the mirror. Stripes, plaids and figures, collars, buttons, and bows, cowboy boots and saddle shoes, crew cuts, pigtails, and painted fingernails were carefully reproduced.

Then they cut out the pictures and fastened them on the walls in the corridor. They wrote their names and mounted them above the pictures. Older pupils and teachers have enjoyed seeing and identifying the life - sized paper dolls.

It is hard to anticipate some of the incidents which happen in first grades. While adjustments were being made on the movie projector, Mrs. Johnson was leading the children in singing.

When she asked them to choose a song, she was surprised to have them suggest "Old Smoky." "Do you know the words to that?" she asked.

The children assured her that they did, so she started the song for them. Then came a real surprise. They all sang lustily:

"On the top of Old Smoky
All covered with snow,
I saw Davy Crockett
Kiss Marilyn Monroe."

Ohio Dairy Loses Appeal In Price Case

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An Ohio dairyman, fined $2,000 for contempt of court in connection with a milk price case, Tuesday lost an appeal of his conviction to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

The state supreme court upheld a lower court decision fining Temple McAllister, owner of the McAllister Dairy Farms, Inc., at Warren, Ohio for violating an injunction of the Crawford County (Pa.) Court against selling milk below minimum prices established by the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission.

He was fined by the Dauphin County Court.

The state claimed that McAllister, in effect, was violating the state minimum when he charged a five cent deposit on gallon and half-gallon jugs of milk sold at his store near Meadville and then urged customers to redeem the empty jugs at a nearby service station for 25 cents on a gallon and 20 cents on a half gallon jug.

The service station proprietor would then return the empty jugs to McAllister.

"ITS SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Ohio Farm Bureau Leader Suggests Nixon Step Aside

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Ohio Farm Bureau official suggests Vice President Nixon be replaced on the Republican ticket this fall.

D. R. Stanfield, the organization's executive secretary, said he supports President Eisenhower for reelection but believes Nixon "doesn't have the stature" to succeed him, if necessary.

"I can't see why the politicians want Nixon," Stanfield went on. "Another man would strengthen the ticket."

Stanfield was among 50 Ohio farmers who arranged talks today with Sens. Bricker and Bender Ohio Republicans, to find out how farmers can reduce social security payments.

The farmers, spokesmen for the Ohio Farm Bureau, were here on their annual three-day visit to discuss legislation.

U. S. Business Now Picking Up New Confidence

Stock Mart Climbing Industrial Leaders Voicing Big Hopes

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) —Business confidence has caught its second breath. This showed up first in the stock market. Prices of some leading shares have climbed, boosting the averages to new peaks.

Now industrial leaders, who tended a little to the cautious side a month ago, are talking big again about sales hopes for the rest of the year. And they are expanding their earlier notions of how much building to do for the future.

Construction contracts let so far this year are running far ahead of those in the same months a year ago. The actual building will be done some months hence.

F. W. Dodge Corp., building statisticians, report nonresidential building contracts 17 per cent ahead of last year, with public works contracts ahead by 64 per cent and public utility contracts up 84 per cent.

The Dodge economist, Dr. George Cline Smith, stresses the strength of business investment, which shows up in the industrial, commercial and utility figures as indicating "a high degree of confidence that today's record levels of production and sales are not a peak, but merely a step toward higher levels ahead."

The Dodge reports deal with contracts recently let. But each day seems to bring new announcements of big expansion plans for this year and next, not yet at the contract stage.

The fact that the big industrial companies are raising their sights on expansion has led many firms in the building material fields to launch building programs of their own. United States Gypsum, National Gypsum, Johns - Manville are among those expanding. The cement industry is building up its capacity. So is the metals industry. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem have recently announced plans to raise their capacity. Reynolds Metals is expanding its aluminum production, that metal now finding wide use in building.

Although monthly steel production continues to set new records, shortages of structural steel plague many builders.

One who will erect a large office building on a site now being cleared on New York's Fifth avenue has just switched construction plans to reinforced concrete. He explains that he can't get the structural steel he had planned to use but he can get the steel rods with which concrete is reinforced.

With the boom in nonresidential building has come slowly rising costs of some building materials.

Famous Mining Engineer Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Daniel C. Jackling, 86, mining engineer who revolutionized the copper industry, died last night.

An orphan at the age of 2, Jackling rose from hard rock miner to multimillionaire. His revolutionary treatment of copper ore, developed in connection with the Utah Copper Co. which he founded, enabled exploitation of low-grade ore through mass production methods on a scale previously thought impossible. The process accounts for more than 60 per cent of the copper production.

Parochial School Tax Relief Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Ways and Means subcommittee has recommended exemption of parochial and nonprofit schools and colleges from payment of federal sales, transportation and communication taxes.

The exemption, entailing an estimated revenue of $3 million a year, was among a variety of recommendations for revision of the excise tax laws involving potential revenue losses of several hundred million dollars.

Peron Challenges Successor To Duel

PANAMA (AP) — Juan D. Peron, ousted president of Argentina, has challenged his successor, provisional President Pedro Aramburu, to a duel. Reporters were shown a copy of a registered letter addressed to Aramburu suggesting the duel be held on the Argentine frontier.

Peron said he had read news dispatches in which Aramburu described him as a "coward" and suggested "meeting on a field of honor if you have doubts as to my personal valor."

Wellsville Faces Pollution Hearing

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Water Pollution Control Board has ordered officials of Wellsville in Columbiana County to appear before the board May 8 to "show cause" why the community's application for renewal of its sewage discharge permit should not be denied.

The board said the city had made progress toward providing sewage treatment, but the board added that the city's municipal council had refused to issue bonds and proceed with the project.

Sun Flareup's Speed Labeled As Incredible

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A flareup on the surface of the sun, in which incredibly hot gases from the sun's interior are apparently shot outward, was reported yesterday to have reached the velocity of about 1,020 miles per second.

The observation was made at the Air Force Cambridge Research Center's special observatory in New Mexico. It clocked the speed, at which the ejected material rose from the sun's surface at a rate of 3½ million miles an hour.

The sunspot activity rose to a height of 32,000 miles above the sun's surface.

Sun spots were first observed in numbers at the upper air research observatory on Feb. 10. For the next 10 days, the number grew until the sun's visible Northern Hemisphere was covered with about 200 spots.

The announcement said the previous maximum velocity reported at the station for such flares before the huge Feb. 10 flareup was about 550 miles, per second. Appearance of spots on the sun is frequently associated with magnetic storms on the earth. Marked fadeouts in radio communication over wide areas may occur.

Ohio Traffic Toll In 1955 Counts High

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Department of Highway Safety reported today that Ohio traffic accidents in 1955 caused property damage of over $50 million.

There were 11 Ohio counties with property damage above the $1 million mark, said U. C. Felty, department director.

The official damage figure for the entire state was $50.9 million. The accidents caused 2,067 deaths and 70,848 injuries. This compared with 1,883 deaths and 65,361 injuries in 1954.

The 1955 traffic toll in Cuyahoga County alone, 147 deaths, was higher than the death toll for the same year in the states of Delaware, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Vermont and Wyoming, Felty reported.

There was one other Ohio county, Hamilton, where fatalities exceeded 100. The total for Hamilton was 116 in 1955.

The 11 Ohio counties with property damage above the million-dollar mark, with the damage figures as reported by Felty: Butler $1,119,000; Cuyahoga, $6,145,000; Franklin, $2,710,000; Hamilton. $3,005,000; Lorain, $1,142,000; Lucas, $2,468,000; Mahoning $1,522,000; Montgomery $2,471,000; Stark, $1,667,000; Summit, $2,777,000; Trumbull, $1,160,000.

Two Lions on All-SCO Team And WHS Gets Cage Title

Spring Meeting Of League Held At Circleville

Washington C. H. High School was awarded the fourth South Central Ohio League championship in a row and three WHS basketball players were placed on the South Central Ohio League All-Star squad at a meeting Wednesday night of SCO school administrators and coaches.

The meeting was held in the Circleville School following dinner.

The championship check was awarded for the WHS top record in basketball this year. The high school here received SCO checks at the last two league meetings, for football, baseball and track championships.

The 1955 track championship was a dual affair with WHS and Wilmington both on top.

The league awards checks and the school buys its own trophies.

• • •

DAVID LEE and Dick English were among six basketball aces picked for the first string All-SCO team. Also on the first team picked by coaches from the five schools were John Kersey and Rickey Roberts of Wilmington, Jim McConnell of Circleville and Gilbert Kittrell of Hillsboro.

Fred Belles of Washington C. H. was placed on the six-player second string team, with Paul Wisecup and Jim Knowles of Greenfield, Fred Summers of Wilmington, Bob Wellington of Circleville and Junior Price of Hillsboro.

Honorable mentions were given to Tom Swaim and John Sommers of Washington C. H., Jack Hedges, Bob Jackson and Ron Gilliland of Hillsboro, Bob Callihan, Walter Sieverts and Ralph Jones of Circleville, Jim Florea and Jim Legg of Greenfield and Dewey Early and Roger Holmes of Wilmington.

THE LEAGUE track meet, to be held at Wilmington this year, was set for Wednesday, May 9. In an attempt to aid scheduling in the event-crowded spring school term, the date for next year's meet was set at his meeting. Unless something comes up between now and then, the 1957 meet will be held also in the middle of the week, May 8.

With the possibility of a few more meets, scheduling was completed between the WHS and other SCO track teams.

As it stand snow, track schedule includes a triangular meet April 10 with Wilmington and Lebanon at Wilmington; triangular meet April 19 with Hillsboro and Lancaster here; dual meet with Circleville April 24 here; dual meet with Greenfield April 30 here.

Coach Fred Domenico, who will be handling track, said he hopes to line up meets with at least Frankfort and Chillicothe High Schools.

WITH BASKETBALL officially and politely laid to rest for the year with the awarding of the WHS championship, tennis was officially shelved as an SCO sport. The query from the floor —"Anyone for tennis" —met with a dooming silence.

Any tennis play here or at the other SCO schools will have to be at the intramural or at least non-league level.

Golf received just about the same treatment, with only two or three schools showing interest in the rambling sport. Washington C. H. was one of them. The golf set-up here will be ironed out between high school officials and golf coach Dick Filbin.

It will definitely be less extensvie this year than last, according to Principal John Trace, but boys will get in a bit of golf if they are so inclined.

AS FAR AS baseball goes, all is quiet. The baseball coaches had no report to make after the group split into departmental meetings.

One way or another, there will definitely be baseball in the spring. But schedules have not been made yet.

The league officially recommended that, after this upcoming football season and during the 1956 season, reserve and junior high scheduling should follow a specific plan when possible.

The recommended plan would have all possible Varsity games played on Friday, with the reserve game the following Monday at the visitors school and junior high the following Thursday at the school where the Varsity game was played.

The group made the recommendation that, at all Varsity games, only adult tickets sold before the game.

WAVERLY HIGH School, which was invited to attend the SCO meeting for possible inclusion in the league, had difficulty in changing from one league to another. The proposed addition of Waverly was dropped but a committee is working on adding more schools to the league.

Attending the Circleville meeting from here was the entire coaching staff, including Fred Domenico, Herb Russell, Dick Filbin, Denzel Leggett, Earl Miller and Clyde Cramer.

Representing the superintendent's office were Supt. W. A. Smith and Fred Rost. Milbourne Flee represented the Board of Education, Principal John Trace also represented the school administration.

Training Camp News Briefs

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Luis Aparicio looks more and more like the best bet to play regular shortstop for the Chicago White Sox this year.

"I'm getting more enthusiastic about the boy all the time," Manager Marty Marion said Wednesday. "He's got real class. It's still a little too early to go overboard on Luis this year, but in time he'll be great."

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs sought their second straight victory over the New York Giants today after a rookie led them to their opening win over the Giants.

Don Eaddy, former University of Michigan player, paced a 7-hit attack which beat the Giants Wednesday, 5-2, at Phoenix.

Eaddy, third baseman, hit a homer and a single and walked twice. He drove in two runs and scored another.

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Today's assignment for the Cincinnati Redlegs: Win a ball game with only two pitchers.

Brooks Lawrence, big Negro righthander, will get the "distance test" against the Boston Red Sox, Manager Birdie Tebbetts announced.

He's hoping that Lawrence, who worked four innings last Sunday, can go seven frames. Rudy Minarcin will be the second pitcher.

Lawrence, who calls Springfield, Ohio, home, won only three games, and lost eight for the Cards last year. He did better (5-1 with Oakland of the Pacific Coast League. Cincinnati acquired him in a between-season trade.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A blend of hitting and pitching, a factor largely absent in last season's seventh place finish, gave the St. Louis Cardinals a sweep of their two-game series with the Detroit Tigers, 7-4.

Stan (The Man) Musial, who raised his spring average to .444 with two hits, and Tom Alston, with two hits and three runs batted in, led the attack against the Bengals. Bill Sarni, battling to keep his catchings job, added a two-run triple.

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Early season fears about Al Kaline's throwing arm can be discarded.

That's the word today from Jack Homel, trainer for the Detroit Tigers, who says the young outfielder will be ready for full time work in a few days.

"Al has made an amazing recovery," Homel said. "He is just about ready for action again."

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Manager Al Lopez was virtually convinced today that rookie catcher Earl Averill can make a successful leap to the major leagues this season with Cleveland.

The Indians long have needed a catcher with power. Jim Hegan has contributed little to the team's offense and while Hal Naragon batted .323 last season he's not a power hitter.

Averill, 24-year-old son of a former Indian center fielder, has shown his power by blasting two game-winning home runs over a three day span.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Billy Bruton, speedy Braves center fielder, smacked his second home run of the spring season and raised his average to .333 Wednesday as Milwaukee beat KansasCity, 5-2.

"This time I'm finally starting to come around. I've been meeting the ball better and getting more wood on it," Bruton explained. He finished last season with a .275 average.

Arraignment Set In Triangle Slaying

DAYTON (AP)—Pearl Collins, 44, of Dayton, was to be arraigned in municipal court today on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying March 13 of Claude Bernard White, 28.

He is accused of shooting White in what police said was a quarrel over White's wife, Pauline, 28. Police are holding Mrs. White as a material witness. She said she had wanted to marry Collins.

Saxton Regains Welter Title From Basilio

Dethroned Champion Cries 'Robbery' After Unanimous Decision

CHICAGO (AP) — (AP) Cruel-jabbing Johnny Saxton again held the world welterweight title today but a hue and cry thundered for a rematch with dethroned and hopping mad Carmen Basilio. It may come in June.

Saxton won a unanimous 15-round decision over Basilio in a nationally televised scrap at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night which left most of 11,373 paid patrons and a host of video fans hollering that Carmen was short-changed.

Basilio bleated that the title was "stole" from him.

The International Boxing Club said no rematch had been contracted, but admitted that one now was "definitely possible."

Seldom has a title match here stirred so much controversy, although there was no doubt in the minds of the three officials that the busy, ever-moving Saxton had won.

Basilio snarled that the deck is stacked against him in Chicago after three defeats in as many starts here.

The referee, Frank Gilmer, called it for Saxton 144-142, while Judge Ed Hintz voted for Johnny 145-138 and Judge James McManus, 147-140. The AP had Saxton ahead 145-142.

On the other hand, a ringside poll showed a 137 preference for Basilio among the experts covering the fight. Basilio's majority came entirely from Eastern writers, while Saxton's backing was all Midwestern.

Unquestionably, Basilio forced the pace, but the sledgehammer attack that won him the 147-pound crown from Tony DeMarco last June 10 and flattened DeMarco again in a Nov. 30 rematch was missing.

"They don't score double hooks here," growled Basilio.

On the other hand, Saxton was an effective, if retreating sharpshooter. Using a stiff left jab with authority all the way, he smashed a nick over Basilio's right eye and had the champ's nose bleeding in the fourth.

Basilio's left eye was almost swollen shut by the 15th round after which Saxton walked to his corner, disdainful of Basilio's effort to slap his back and apparently knowing he had recaptured the 147-pound title.

"I won the fight," protested Basilio. "Hold and run, hold and run, that's all he did."

Saxton first won the welter crown with an equally-disputed 15-round decision over then champion Kid Gavilan at Philadelphia Oct. 20, 1954. He lost it in his first defense to DeMarco on a 14th-round Tko at Boston last April 1.

The principals split 30-30 on a net gate of $83,008 and radio-tv receipts of $50,000.

Saxton weighed 146¾ against 146 for Basilio.

Top U. S. Diver Dies In Jet Crash

DALLAS (AP) — David Browning Jr., one of the greatest divers in the history of sports, has been killed in a plane crash, the Navy reports.

Browning, 24, a lieutenant (J.G.) was killed Tuesday night when his Navy jet plane crashed near Rantoul, Kan., shortly after takeoff. He was attached to Navy jet fighter squadron 211, based at Moffett Naval Air Station, Calif.

Browning, who started diving when a tot at Corpus Christi, Tex., was the 3-meter Olympics diving champion in 1952, holder of four National Collegiate Athletic Assn., championships and numerous amateur athletic union championships.

Dr. Middlecoff Said Getting 'Old'

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Cary Middlecoff is becoming, at 35, one of the old men of golf. But "Old Doc" still figured as the man to beat in the $12,500 St. Petersburg Open which started today.

The former Memphis dentist warmed up for defense of his title with several fine rounds. He never went above 68 and had one 64 over the course where par is 72.

But he no longer exposes himself to the rigors of a continuous trek along the tournament trail.

"I can't take that steady grind anymore," the Tennessean said.

Kansas City Tourney List Grows Small

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Eight survivors from an original field of 32 headed into the quarter-finals of the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament today with Western Illinois leading the parade.

Western Illinois, No. 1, was among five seeded teams that survived yesterday's second round, setting down Pacific Lutheran 72-67. Three seeded teams were eliminated.

Other results:

Midwestern (Wichita Falls, Tex.) 93, Geneva (Beaver Falls, Pa.) 75; Tennessee A&I 62, Eau Claire (Wis.) 61; Wheaton (Ill.) 74, Stephen F. Austin 66; McNeese (Lake Charles, La.) 87, Central (Ohio) state 74; Texas Southern 64, Rockhurst 61; Pittsburg (Kan.) State 99, Georgia Teachers 72; Gustavus-Adolphu 69, San Diego State 60.

Bill Reigel, the nation's leading scorer, contributed 42 points to McNeese's victory over Central State. Reigel had averaged 34.3 points in 31 games before the tournament.

U. S. Business Now Picking Up New Confidence

Stock Mart Climbing Industrial Leaders Voicing Big Hopes

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) —Business confidence has caught its second breath. This showed up first in the stock market. Prices of some leading shares have climbed, boosting the averages to new peaks.

Now industrial leaders, who tended a little to the cautious side a month ago, are talking big again about sales hopes for the rest of the year. And they are expanding their earlier notions of how much building to do for the future.

Construction contracts let so far this year are running far ahead of those in the same months a year ago. The actual building will be done some months hence.

F. W. Dodge Corp., building statisticians, report nonresidential building contracts 17 per cent ahead of last year, with public works contracts ahead by 64 per cent and public utility contracts up 84 per cent.

The Dodge economist, Dr. George Cline Smith, stresses the strength of business investment, which shows up in the industrial, commercial and utility figures as indicating "a high degree of confidence that today's record levels of production and sales are not a peak, but merely a step toward higher levels ahead."

The Dodge reports deal with contracts recently let. But each day seems to bring new announcements of big expansion plans for this year and next, not yet at the contract stage.

The fact that the big industrial companies are raising their sights on expansion has led many firms in the building material fields to launch building programs of their own. United States Gypsum, National Gypsum, Johns - Manville are among those expanding. The cement industry is building up its capacity. So is the metals industry. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem have recently announced plans to raise their capacity. Reynolds Metals is expanding its aluminum production, that metal now finding wide use in building.

Although monthly steel production continues to set new records, shortages of structural steel plague many builders.

One who will erect a large office building on a site now being cleared on New York's Fifth avenue has just switched construction plans to reinforced concrete. He explains that he can't get the structural steel he had planned to use but he can get the steel rods with which concrete is reinforced.

With the boom in nonresidential building has come slowly rising costs of some building materials.

Famous Mining Engineer Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Daniel C. Jackling, 86, mining engineer who revolutionized the copper industry, died last night.

An orphan at the age of 2, Jackling rose from hard rock miner to multimillionaire. His revolutionary treatment of copper ore, developed in connection with the Utah Copper Co. which he founded, enabled exploitation of low-grade ore through mass production methods on a scale previously thought impossible. The process accounts for more than 60 per cent of the copper production.

Parochial School Tax Relief Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Ways and Means subcommittee has recommended exemption of parochial and nonprofit schools and colleges from payment of federal sales, transportation and communication taxes.

The exemption, entailing an estimated revenue of $3 million a year, was among a variety of recommendations for revision of the excise tax laws involving potential revenue losses of several hundred million dollars.

Peron Challenges Successor To Duel

PANAMA (AP) — Juan D. Peron, ousted president of Argentina, has challenged his successor, provisional President Pedro Aramburu, to a duel. Reporters were shown a copy of a registered letter addressed to Aramburu suggesting the duel be held on the Argentine frontier.

Peron said he had read news dispatches in which Aramburu described him as a "coward" and suggested "meeting on a field of honor if you have doubts as to my personal valor."

Wellsville Faces Pollution Hearing

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Water Pollution Control Board has ordered officials of Wellsville in Columbiana County to appear before the board May 8 to "show cause" why the community's application for renewal of its sewage discharge permit should not be denied.

The board said the city had made progress toward providing sewage treatment, but the board added that the city's municipal council had refused to issue bonds and proceed with the project.

Sun Flareup's Speed Labeled As Incredible

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A flareup on the surface of the sun, in which incredibly hot gases from the sun's interior are apparently shot outward, was reported yesterday to have reached the velocity of about 1,020 miles per second.

The observation was made at the Air Force Cambridge Research Center's special observatory in New Mexico. It clocked the speed, at which the ejected material rose from the sun's surface at a rate of 3½ million miles an hour.

The sunspot activity rose to a height of 32,000 miles above the sun's surface.

Sun spots were first observed in numbers at the upper air research observatory on Feb. 10. For the next 10 days, the number grew until the sun's visible Northern Hemisphere was covered with about 200 spots.

The announcement said the previous maximum velocity reported at the station for such flares before the huge Feb. 10 flareup was about 550 miles, per second. Appearance of spots on the sun is frequently associated with magnetic storms on the earth. Marked fadeouts in radio communication over wide areas may occur.

Ohio Traffic Toll In 1955 Counts High

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Department of Highway Safety reported today that Ohio traffic accidents in 1955 caused property damage of over $50 million.

There were 11 Ohio counties with property damage above the $1 million mark, said U. C. Felty, department director.

The official damage figure for the entire state was $50.9 million. The accidents caused 2,067 deaths and 70,848 injuries. This compared with 1,883 deaths and 65,361 injuries in 1954.

The 1955 traffic toll in Cuyahoga County alone, 147 deaths, was higher than the death toll for the same year in the states of Delaware, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Vermont and Wyoming, Felty reported.

There was one other Ohio county, Hamilton, where fatalities exceeded 100. The total for Hamilton was 116 in 1955.

The 11 Ohio counties with property damage above the million-dollar mark, with the damage figures as reported by Felty: Butler $1,119,000; Cuyahoga, $6,145,000; Franklin, $2,710,000; Hamilton, $3,005,000; Lorain, $1,142,000; Lucas, $2,468,000; Mahoning $1,522,000; Montgomery $2,471,000; Stark, $1,667,000; Summit, $2,777,000; Trumbull, $1,160,000.

MARIETTA, Pa. (AP)—A meeting called last night to discuss more strict enforcement of the village curfew ordinance had to be postponed. The village council couldn't find the ordinance.

Two Lions on All-SCO Team And WHS Gets Cage Title

Spring Meeting Of League Held At Circleville

Washington C. H. High School was awarded the fourth South Central Ohio League championship in a row and three WHS basketball players were placed on the South Central Ohio League All-Star squad at a meeting Wednesday night of SCO school administrators and coaches.

The meeting was held in the Circleville School following dinner.

The championship check was awarded for the WHS top record in basketball this year. The high school here received SCO checks at the last two league meetings, for football, baseball and track championships.

The 1955 track championship was a dual affair with WHS and Wilmington both on top.

The league awards checks and the school buys its own trophies.

DAVID LEE and Dick English were among six basketball aces picked for the first string All-SCO team. Also on the first team picked by coaches from the five schools were John Kersey and Rickey Roberts of Wilmington, Jim McConnell of Circleville and Gilbert Kittrell of Hillsboro.

Fred Belles of Washington C. H. was placed on the six-player second string team, with Paul Wisecup and Jim Knowles of Greenfield, Fred Summers of Wilmington, Bob Wellington of Circleville and Junior Price of Hillsboro.

Honorable mentions were given to Tom Swaim and John Sommers of Washington C. H., Jack Hedges, Bob Jackson and Ron Gilliland of Hillsboro, Bob Callihan, Walter Sieverts and Ralph Jones of Circleville, Jim Florea and Jim Legg of Greenfield and Dewey Early and Roger Holmes of Wilmington.

THE LEAGUE track meet, to be held at Wilmington this year, was set for Wednesday, May 9. In an attempt to aid scheduling in the event-crowded spring school term, the date for next year's meet was set at his meeting. Unless something comes up between now and then, the 1957 meet will be held also in the middle of the week, May 8.

With the possibility of a few more meets, scheduling was completed between the WHS and other SCO track teams.

As it stand snow, track schedule includes a triangular meet April 10 with Wilmington and Lebanon at Wilmington; triangular meet April 19 with Hillsboro and Lancaster here; dual meet with Circleville April 24 here; dual meet with Greenfield April 30 here.

Coach Fred Domenico, who will be handling track, said he hopes to line up meets with at least Frankfort and Chillicothe High Schools.

WITH BASKETBALL officially and politely laid to rest for the year with the awarding of the WHS championship, tennis was officially shelved as an SCO sport. The query from the floor —"Anyone for tennis" —met with a dooming silence.

Any tennis play here or at the other SCO schools will have to be at the intramural or at least non-league level.

Golf received just about the same treatment, with only two or three schools showing interest in the rambling sport. Washington C. H. was one of them. The golf set-up here will be ironed out between high school officials and golf coach Dick Filbin.

It will definitely be less extensvie this year than last, according to Principal John Trace, but boys will get in a bit of golf if they are so inclined.

• • •

AS FAR AS baseball goes, all is quiet. The baseball coaches had no report to make after the group split into departmental meetings.

One way or another, there will definitely be baseball in the spring. But schedules have not been made yet.

The league officially recommended that, after this upcoming football season and during the 1956 season, reserve and junior high scheduling should follow a specific plan when possible.

The recommended plan would have all possible Varsity games played on Friday, with the reserve game the following Monday at the visitors school and junior high the following Thursday at the school where the Varsity game was played.

The group made the recommendation that, at all Varsity games, only adult tickets sold before the game.

COACHES FROM THE FIVE South Central Ohio League schools, including Herb Russell of Washington C. H. (far right) thrash out the league all-star team as Coach Red Courtney of Circleville (standing, left) works out the vote tabulations. The all-league team was picked Wednesday night at a meeting of SCO officials and coaches. (Record-Herald photo)

WAVERLY HIGH School, which was invited to attend the SCO meeting for possible inclusion in the league, had difficulty in changing from one league to another. The proposed addition of Waverly was dropped but a committee is working on adding more schools to the league.

Attending the Circleville meeting from here was the entire coaching staff, including Fed Domenico, Herb Russell, Dick Filbin, Denzel Leggett, Earl Miller and Clyde Cramer.

Representing the superintendent's office were Supt. W. A. Smith and Fred Rost. Milbourne Flee represented the Board of Education, Principal John Trace also represented the school administration.

Ike Nominates Ohio Postmasters

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has sent to the Senate these postmaster nominations for Ohio:

George B. Lewis, Blue Creek, Adams County; Carey W. Hudson, Mowrystown, Highland County.

"ITS SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Training Camp News Briefs

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Luis Aparicio looks more and more like the best bet to play regular shortstop for the Chicago White Sox this year.

"I'm getting more enthusiastic about the boy all the time," Manager Marty Marion said Wednesday. "He's got real class. It's still a little too early to go overboard on Luis this year, but in time he'll be great."

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs sought their second straight victory over the New York Giants today after a rookie led them to their opening win over the Giants.

Don Eaddy, former University of Michigan player, paced a 7-hit attack which beat the Giants Wednesday, 5-2, at Phoenix.

Eaddy, third baseman, hit a homer and a single and walked twice. He drove in two runs and scored another.

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Today's assignment for the Cincinnati Redlegs: Win a ball game with only two pitchers.

Brooks Lawrence, big Negro righthander, will get the "distance test" against the Boston Red Sox, Manager Birdie Tebbetts announced.

He's hoping that Lawrence, who worked four innings last Sunday, can go seven frames. Rudy Minarcin will be the second pitcher.

Lawrence, who calls Springfield, Ohio, home, won only three games, and lost eight for the Cards last year. He did better (5-1 with Oakland of the Pacific Coast League. Cincinnati acquired him in a between-season trade.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A blend of hitting and pitching, a factor largely absent in last season's seventh place finish, gave the St. Louis Cardinals a sweep of their two-game series with the Detroit Tigers, 7-4.

Stan (The Man) Musial, who raised his spring average to .444 with two hits, and Tom Alston, with two hits and three runs batted in, led the attack against the Bengals. Bill Sarni, battling to keep his catchings job, added a two-run triple.

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Early season fears about Al Kaline's throwing arm can be discarded.

That's the word today from Jack Homel, trainer for the Detroit Tigers, who says the young outfielder will be ready for full time work in a few days.

"Al has made an amazing recovery," Homel said. "He is just about ready for action again."

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Manager Al Lopez was virtually convinced today that rookie catcher Earl Averill can make a successful leap to the major leagues this season with Cleveland.

The Indians long have needed a catcher with power. Jim Hegan has contributed little to the team's offense and while Hal Naragon batted .323 last season he's not a power hitter.

Averill, 24-year-old son of a former Indian center fielder, has shown his power by blasting two game-winning home runs over a three day span.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Billy Bruton, speedy Braves center fielder, smacked his second home run of the spring season and raised his average to .333 Wednesday as Milwaukee beat KansasCity 5-2.

"This time I'm finally starting to come around. I've been meeting the ball better and getting more wood on it," Bruton explained. He finished last season with a .275 average.

Arraignment Set In Triangle Slaying

DAYTON (AP)—Pearl Collins, 44, of Dayton, was to be arraigned in municipal court today on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying March 13 of Claude Bernard White, 28.

He is accused of shooting White in what police said was a quarrel over White's wife, Pauline, 28. Police are holding Mrs. White as a material witness. She said she had wanted to marry Collins.

Saxton Regains Welter Title From Basilio

Dethroned Champion Cries 'Robbery' After Unanimous Decision

CHICAGO (AP) — (AP) Cruel-jabbing Johnny Saxton again held the world welterweight title today but a hue and cry thundered for a rematch with dethroned and hopping mad Carmen Basilio. It may come in June.

Saxton won a unanimous 15-round decision over Basilio in a nationally televised scrap at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night which left most of 11,373 paid patrons and a host of video fans hollering that Carmen was short-changed.

Basilio bleated that the title was "stole" from him.

The International Boxing Club said no rematch had been contracted, but admitted that one now was "definitely possible."

Seldom has a title match here stirred so much controversy, although there was no doubt in the minds of the three officials that the busy, ever-moving Saxton had won.

Basilio snarled that the deck is stacked against him in Chicago after three defeats in as many starts here.

The referee, Frank Gilmer, called it for Saxton 144-142, while Judge Ed Hintz voted for Johnny 145-138 and Judge James McManus, 147-140. The AP had Saxton ahead 145-142.

On the other hand, a ringside poll showed a 137 preference for Basilio among the experts covering the fight. Basilio's majority came entirely from Eastern writers, while Saxton's backing was all Midwestern.

Unquestionably, Basilio forced the pace, but the sledgehammer attack that won him the 148-pound crown from Tony DeMarco last June 10 and flattened DeMarco again in a Nov. 30 rematch was missing.

"They don't score double hooks here," growled Basilio.

On the other hand, Saxton was an effective, if retreating sharpshooter. Using a stiff left jab with authority all the way, he smashed a nick over Basilio's right eye and had the champ's nose bleeding in the fourth.

Basilio's left eye was almost swollen shut by the 15th round after which Saxton walked to his corner, disdainful of Basilio's effort to slap his back and apparently knowing he had recaptured the 147-pound title.

"I won the fight," protested Basilio. "Hold and run, hold and run, that's all he did."

Saxton first won the welter crown with an equally-disputed 15-round decision over then champion Kid Gavilan at Philadelphia Oct. 20, 1954. He lost it in his first defense to DeMarco on a 14th-round Tko at Boston last April 1.

The principals split 30-30 on a net gate of $83,008 and radio-tv receipts of $50,000.

Saxton weighed 146¾ against 146 for Basilio.

Top U. S. Diver Dies In Jet Crash

DALLAS (AP) — David Browning Jr., one of the greatest divers in the history of sports, has been killed in a plane crash, the Navy reports.

Browning, 24, a lieutenant (J.G.) was killed Tuesday night when his Navy jet plane crashed near Rantoul, Kan., shortly after takeoff. He was attached to Navy jet fighter squadron 211, based at Moffett Naval Air Station, Calif.

Browning, who started diving when a tot at Corpus Christi, Tex., was the 3-meter Olympics diving champion in 1952, holder of four National Collegiate Athletic Assn. championships and numerous amateur athletic union championships.

Dr. Middlecoff Said Getting 'Old'

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Cary Middlecoff is becoming, at 35, one of the old men of golf. But "Old Doc" still figured as the man to beat in the $12,500 St. Petersburg Open which started today.

The former Memphis dentist warmed up for defense of his title with several fine rounds. He never went above 68 and had one 64 over the course where par is 72.

But he no longer exposes himself to the rigors of a continuous trek along the tournament trail.

"I can't take that steady grind anymore," the Tennessean said.

Kansas City Tourney List Grows Small

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Eight survivors from an original field of 32 headed into the quarter-finals of the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament today with Western Illinois leading the parade.

Western Illinois, No. 1, was among five seeded teams that survived yesterday's second round, setting down Pacific Lutheran 72-67. Three seeded teams were eliminated.

Other results:

Midwestern (Wichita Falls, Tex.) 93, Geneva (Beaver Falls, Pa.) 75; Tennessee A&I 62, Eau Claire (Wis.) 61; Wheaton (Ill.) 74, Stephen F. Austin 66; McNeese (Lake Charles, La.) 87, Central (Ohio) state 74; Texas Southern 64, Rockhurst 61; Pittsburg (Kan.) State 99, Georgia Teachers 72; Gustavus-Adolphu 69, San Diego State 60.

San Diego won the tournament in 1941. The seeded survivors, other than Western Illinois, are Wheaton (No. 3), McNeese (No. 4), Pittsburg (No. 7), and Texas Southern (No. 8).

Geneva had been seeded No. 2, Eau Claire No. 5 and San Diego No. 6.

Of the survivors, Tennessee A&I and Texas Southern are Negroes. Central State, eliminated yesterday also is a Negro team.

Bill Reigel, the nation's leading scorer, contributed 42 points to McNeese's victory over Central State. Reigel had averaged 34.3 points in 31 games before the tournament.

LIKE YOU'RE WEARING SPURS

Come try it —
and you're in BUICK'S THRILL-A-MINUTE CLUB

THE THRILLS begin in the first sixty seconds – and from then on they come in clusters.

Right off, you feel the stepped-up getaway in Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—a blazing new take-off even before you switch the pitch.

Because now—right in the topmost inch of pedal travel – right where you do most of your driving – right in the fuel-saving economy range – you're moving with a solid new "take-hold" getaway that's brisk and blessedly smooth.

Then you double the thrill.

For when you want to pass—or climb—or get out of a tight spot fast – you floor the pedal and switch the pitch. That brings you an absolutely smooth burst of full-power go-ahead on the split second—and it's the nearest thing to soaring flight yet.

It's a double-barreled package of excitement—and it's teamed with the most powerful V8 engine in Buick history – a 322-cubic-inch engine with no less than 9.5 to 1 compression in every CENTURY, SUPER and ROADMASTER.

All that would seem like thrill enough—but you'll find you've hardly scratched the surface.

You'll find yourself glowing all over from the sweet and level buoyancy of Buick's great new ride.

You'll feel a serene satisfaction from the way this trim beauty handles and corners and tracks to the road with the truest sense of direction yet.

And certainly you'll have to feel the good feeling that's yours just from bossing this big and brawny and beautifully sculptured automobile that's like a thing alive, and impeccably obedient.

We'd like you to know and feel all this firsthand—just by trying out a new Buick. That's all you do to join Buick's Thrill-A-Minute Club.

Why not become a member in good sitting today? And when you do, we have some big-thrill news on prices, too.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

The League of Free Jurists, a West Berlin group, said the Reds executed Grotewohl's secretary, Miss Ellis Barczatis, 44, and Karl Laurenz, 51. They were reported sentenced to death last October after a secret trial.

Full Calendar For St. Andrew's

Special Services Planned For Lent

Fourteen positions in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church here have been filled, either by election of appointment by the vestry, this week's "Bulletin" discloses. They are Glenn Tatman, secretary; Willard Story, treasurer; Robert Lisk building and property supervisor; Karl Kay, custodian of the organ; Clarence Barger, organist; Mrs Harford Hankins, Jr., choir director; Matthew Kierstead, sexton; Earl Miller, chairman of Christian education and superintendent of the church school; Mrs. Roger Hoffman, in charge of the "Bulletin;" Mrs. Carl Willett, general chairman of the Altar Guild; Mrs. Frank Baker, chairman of the Junior Guild; Mrs. Frank Baker, chairman of the Junior Guild; Mrs. Winston Hill, the Girls of St. Andrew's; Felix Halliday and Glenn Tatman the acolytes, and Dr. Stewart B. Smith and Theron L. Loose, the honorary ushers.

Mrs. Thelma Bolton is chairman of the Altar Guild for March and Mrs. Carl Willett is the chairman for April.

The church calendar is dotted with religious events from now until Easter and on through April.

Morning services and church school are held regularly every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Next Sunday is the fourth Sunday in Lent and the following Sunday, March 18, is Passion Sunday. After these will come in order Palm Sunday, Maundy Thursday and then Easter Day.

The Venerable David R. Thornberry is to conduct the Holy Communion service and Procession of Palms with the church school children and the evening prayer and Litany are to be offered the Friday evening of March 30, following Maundy Thursday with Emmet C. Smith of Bexley Hall.

The Easter service —the Festival of Holy Communion and church school — is to be at 10 o'clock the morning of April 1, Easter Day

Next Wednesday evening, Mrs. Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati is to address the Women's Auxiliary.

The Lenten and Easter services at St. Andrew's Church are somewhat out of the ordinary this year because the church has been without a regular rector since Rev. Sanford Lindsey was transferred to the London parish and Rev. John Carson went to the Hillsboro parish. The services since then have been under the direction of the Vestry.

The children's mite boxes and the self-denial envelopes are to be presented the Sunday after Easter. The contributions of this Lenten offering, the "Bulletin" says, will go to the children in the Columbia River valley, South Dakota Indian Missions and Africa where "children are waiting to be clothed, fed and cheered."

The "Bulletin" also notes that more than 1,000 bandages and 57 white shirts have been mailed recently by the Women's Auxiliary to the Leper Colony.

William Boylan Now Has Own Store

William Boylan, who was graduated from Washington C. H. High School in 1948, today has his own jewelry store and watch repair shop in Mt. Sterling.

And now what was for years the Davis Jewelry Store is now the Boylan Jewelry Store; the formal opening of the new store was last week end.

Now only 25 years old, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boylan, 604 West Temple.

He started his training for his craft by working in the Schorr Jewelry Store here in his spare time during his last year in high school.

After his graduation, he took a job with the state Highway Department here, but after a year, he decided to return to the work he intends to make his career — at the watch repair bench and behind the counter of a jewelry store.

So, in September of last year, he went to work in the Gossard Jewelry Store where he gained more valuable experience under the guidance of George Pensyl, the proprietor.

Chillicothean Faces Charges Here

Hal Watts, 54, Chillicothe, was taken into custody by Sheriff Orland Hays Wednesday night, following a wreck on the Chillicothe road at the Eyman farm.

According to Sheriff Hays, Watts had lost control of his car while intoxicated and it went into a roadside ditch.

He was pulled out of the ditch by a passerby, but as soon as he started his car again, he crossed the road and crached into the concrete end of a culvert, further damaging his car.

Soon after this he was taken into custody and furnished $350 bond for his appearance in municipal court on a driving while drunk charge.

Jeff Athletes Given Banquet

Letter Awards Made To Cage Champions

Jeffersonville High School's basketball players, the boys who copped county championships in two out of three divisions this year, were the guests of honor at the annual Jeffersonville athletic banquet at the high school Wednesday evening.

A highlight of the evening came when members of all three teams —varsity, reserve and junior high —received their letters.

Also winning their J's were the high school and junior high school cheerleaders and the managers of Jeff's two county championship teams, varsity and reserve.

Speaker at the dinner was Nick Nicholas, University of Cincinnati varsity cager. Nicholas' talk pointed up the value of basketball to the players, both on the high school and college levels. He placed emphasis on team play and "honest effort," both in sports and life later.

The dinner was sponsored and served by the Jeffersonville Parent-Teacher Club under the leadership of its president, Mrs. John Baird.

Toastmaster was Marvin Smith.

• • •

THE PROGRAM featured movie highlights of the 1954-55 basketball season at University of Cincinnati. Music was by the Jeffettes, a trio of high school girls. They are Joanie Little, Pauline Davis and Sharon Warnock. The accompanist was Sara Sue Davidson.

Highlight of the awards program was the presentation of trophies to the player voted "most valuable" by his teammates and to the boys with the top foul shooting records.

The most valuable player trophy went to John Wright, high scorer in almost every game and a slick ball handler.

Winner of the varsity free throw shooting trophy was Ronnie Sams, who averaged 63 percent during the whole season. Reserve foul shooting champ was Alva Hanners, who hit on 60 percent of his free throw attempts.

During the presentation ceremony, letters went to these players, managers and cheerleaders:

Boys Form New Club To Study Electricity

Twenty boys turned out for the organization of the "Shock Resistors" electricity club Wednesday evening in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

This is a new countywide electricity club. The members chose the appropriate name "Shock Resistors."

According to Assoc. County Agent Phil Grover, the boys will learn some principles of electricity and also will make some useful projects such as an extension cord and a desk lamp.

Lloyd Conover, former vocational agricultural teacher at Jeffersonville and now Rural Application Engineer with the Dayton Power Light Co. is serving as the advisor. The club will meet every two weeks on Wednesday evening and will hold eight meetings prior to the Fair.

This club is for any boy, from 10 through 21 years of age interested in electricity The next meeting will be held March 28 at 7:30 P. M., Farm Bureau auditorium.

Baptists Here Plan SOS Night

Contributed Goods To Be For Relief

Members and friends of the First Baptist Church will hold a "S.O.S." party at the church on Friday night. It is to start with a fellowship dinner at 6:30 o'clock.

The price of admission to the party will be one or more articles from a suggested list.

The new towels and wash cloths will be sent to the Bacone College for Indians at Bacone, Okla. The children's clothing will be sent to the Murrow Children's Home for Indians at Bacone. Other clothing and bedding will be sent to refugees in Europe through Church World Service.

• • •

THE YOUNG people of the church are sending money for the "Share Our Surplus" program. In this program the United States government will send $20 worth of food for every $1 given to the program.

The government owns millions of dollars worth of surplus foods — wheat, corn, cotton - seed oil and dairy products and Americans are paying $700,000 daily for their storage costs. Delivery of these vital foods to the needy abroad costs only 5 percent of their actual market values, Rev. Norman D. Renn, the church pastor, pointed out.

Mrs. Walter Hurtt, chairman of the Committee on Youth work is in charge of the program following the dinner. This program will include a hymn sing, special music and the prestation of the Easter story on film.

Mrs. Charles Hurtt, chairman of the social committee, is in charge of the dinner.

TIRED...NERVOUS

...EASY PREY TO MINOR ILLS!*

Nutritional experts reveal vitamin losses in cooked foods plus faulty diet may be seriously undermining your energy, strength, and resistance, making you feel dragged out—on edge—affecting your appetite—spoiling your sleep — because your body is vitamin and iron starved.

*These symptoms if due to a vitamin deficiency occur only when daily intake of vitamins B1, B2, and niacin is less than minimum daily requirements over a prolonged period. In themselves, they do not prove a dietary deficiency as they may have other causes or be due to functional conditions.

Why Vitamins Destroyed in Cooking Food Must be Replaced

Do you know that all of 25% of the total Thiamin (vitamin "B") content in potatoes can be destroyed by cooking—30% in leafy green and yellow vegetables—and 25% in lean meats, poultry and fish! Other essential nutritional factors such as Niacin, Riboflavin, and Ascorbic Acid may also be adversely affected in cooked foods. And these figures are tabulations from foods cooked under average methods! Just think what happens when you eat overcooked foods — warmed up left-overs — or foods from steam tables in cafeterias! These are powerful reasons why your entire system may be vitamin starved.

How You Can Stop Chronic Vitamin and Iron Starvation TODAY — Feel Like a New Person!

Supplement your diet every day with just one High-Potency Bexel Capsule. Just one of these wonderfully strengthening capsules give you the full vitamin and iron content nature provided in the group of the following foods before cooking:

1 quart of pasteurized milk
4 oz. of fresh orange juice
½ lb. of lean bacon
1 lb. of lean pork
½ lb. of green string beans
½ lb. of veal chops
½ lb. of ham
¼ lb. of butter
1 lb. of beets

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Full Calendar For St. Andrew's

Special Services Planned For Lent

Fourteen positions in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church here have been filled, either by election of appointment by the vestry, this week's "Bulletin" discloses. They are Glenn Tatman, secretary; Willard Story, treasurer; Robert Lisk building and property supervisor; Karl Kay, custodian of the organ; Clarence Barger, organist; Mrs Harford Hankins, Jr., choir director; Matthew Kierstead, sexton; Earl Miller, chairman of Christian education and superintendent of the church school; Mrs. Roger Hoffman, in charge of the "Bulletin;" Mrs. Carl Willett, general chairman of the Altar Guild; Mrs. Frank Baker, chairman of the Junior Guild; Mrs. Frank Baker, chairman of the Junior Guild; Mrs. Winston Hill, the Girls of St. Andrew's; Felix Halliday and Glenn Tatman the acolytes, and Dr. Stewart B. Smith and Theron L. Loose, the honorary ushers.

Mrs. Thelma Bolton is chairman of the Altar Guild for March and Mrs. Carl Willett is the chairman for April.

The church calendar is dotted with religious events from now until Easter and on through April.

Morning services and church school are held regularly every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Next Sunday is the fourth Sunday in Lent and the following Sunday, March 18, is Passion Sunday. After these will come in order Palm Sunday, Maundy Thursday and then Easter Day.

The Venerable David R. Thornberry is to conduct the Holy Communion service and Procession of Palms with the church school children and the evening prayer and Litany are to be offered the Friday evening of March 30, following Maundy Thursday with Emmet C. Smith of Bexley Hall.

The Easter service —the Festival of Holy Communion and church school — is to be at 10 o'clock the morning of April 1, Easter Day

Next Wednesday evening, Mrs. Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati is to address the Women's Auxiliary.

The Lenten and Easter services at St. Andrew's Church are somewhat out of the ordinary this year because the church has been without a regular rector since Rev. Sanford Lindsey was transferred to the London parish and Rev. John Carson went to the Hillsboro parish.

The services since then have been under the direction of the Vestry.

The children's mite boxes and the self-denial envelopes are to be presented the Sunday after Easter. The contributions of this Lenten offering, the "Bulletin" says, will go to the children in the Columbia River valley, South Dakota Indian Missions and Africa where "children are waiting to be clothed, fed and cheered."

The "Bulletin" also notes that more than 1,000 bandages and 57 white shirts have been mailed recently by the Women's Auxiliary to the Leper Colony.

William Boylan Now Has Own Store

William Boylan, who was graduated from Washington C H. High School in 1948, today has his own jewelry store and watch repair shop in Mt. Sterling.

And now what was for years the Davis Jewelry Store is now the Boylan Jewelry Store; the formal opening of the new store was last week end.

Now only 25 years old, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boylan, 604 West Temple.

He started his training for his craft by working in the Schorr Jewelry Store here in his spare time during his last year in high school.

After his graduation, he took a job with the state Highway Department here, but after a year, he decided to return to the work he intends to make his career — at the watch repair bench and behind the counter of a jewelry store.

So, in September of last year, he went to work in the Gossard Jewelry Store where he gained more valuable experience under the guidance of George Pensyl, the proprietor.

He was pulled out of the ditch by a passerby, but as soon as he started his car again, he crossed the road and crached into the concrete end of a culvert, further damaging his car.

Soon after this he was taken into custody and furnished $350 bond for his appearance in municipal court on a driving while drunk charge.

Letter Awards Made To Cage Champions

Jeffersonville High School's basketball players, the boys who copped county championships in two out of three divisions this year, were the guests of honor at the annual Jeffersonville athletic banquet at the high school Wednesday evening.

A highlight of the evening came when members of all three teams —varsity, reserve and junior high —received their letters.

Also winning their J's were the high school and junior high school cheerleaders and the managers of Jeff's two county championship teams, varsity and reserve.

The dinner was sponsored and served by the Jeffersonville Parent-Teacher Club under the leadership of its president, Mrs. John Baird.

Toastmaster was Marvin Smith.

...EASY PREY TO MINOR ILLS!*

Nutritional experts reveal vitamin losses in cooked foods plus faulty diet may be seriously undermining your energy, strength, and resistance, making you feel dragged out—on edge—affecting your appetite—spoiling your sleep — because your body is vitamin and iron starved.
*These symptoms if due to a vitamin deficiency occur only when daily intake of vitamins B1, B2, and niacin is less than minimum daily requirements over a prolonged period. In themselves, they do not prove a dietary deficiency as they may have other causes or be due to functional conditions.
Why Vitamins Destroyed in Cooking Food Must be Replaced
Do you know that all of 25% of the total Thiamin (vitamin "B") content in potatoes can be destroyed by cooking—30% in leafy green and yellow vegetables—and 25% in lean meats, poultry and fish! Other essential nutritional factors such as Niacin, Riboflavin, and Ascorbic Acid may also be adversely affected in cooked foods. And these figures are tabulations from foods cooked under average methods! Just think what happens when you eat overcooked foods — warmed up left-overs — or foods from steam tables in cafeterias! These are powerful reasons why your entire system may be vitamin starved.
